Cancers Cured!

OR NO CHARGE.

DR. KINGSLEY,
OF HOME, N. Y.

The discovery of a preparation for Cancers without the use of the knife. Thousands of persons who, owing to the efficacy of this plan of treatment. This preparation will destroy the growth of most Cancers in between ten to sixty minutes. Even in those long standing excrescences of the breast, from which so many females are agonizing, specific is equally as efficient as in those smaller sort of Cancers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of all these persons who have died from Cancer, could easily have been cured. Cancers have been considered for a time in medical the greatest scourge of the human race, but the time will come when all will see that it is as remediable as any other disease. At the same time remember we give it to purify the blood and fortify the system against a renewed attack. In all cases, if the Cancer is not too far advanced, a perfect cure is warranted, or no charge.

Most persons are greatly deceived in regard to the first symptoms and appearance of cancer, considering it very painful from the commencement. This is a sad mistake, causing the death of thousands, more being but little or no pain until the Cancer is far advanced. The only symptoms for months, and in some cases even for years, is only a slight itching or slight swelling, or a burning, itching, or shooting sensation, and a small excrescence, or a tiny lump. Do not fail at this, it is either a lump that will grow to the size of a head, and also those malignant appearances in the form of excrescences, or excrescences, which appear in either sex on the face, nose, lips, eyelids, or any other part of the human system. Cancer is very easily cured in its early stage, consequently it is of the very greatest importance that all those affected should have immediate treatment. The thousands of very valuable lives have been lost from cure being too late, having been advised by the physician having no knowledge of the disease, who, by calling it cancer, or the disease, said it must or was either incurable, or fatal, and this has become a habit of thought, and many of them, until upon the very verge of death, when, to hide such mistakes, the physician tells the patient that it has finally turned to cancer, and cannot be cured. There is no such thing as turning to Cancer. What we call cancer, began in cancer. Be no longer deceived. If you have the slightest suspicion of trouble, seek immediate relief and then preserve life.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Neuritis, Stomach Piles, Tape Worms, or Worms of any kind, all Diseases of the Skin, Phlegm, Scalds or King's Evil, For a Sore, Spinal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder, Kidney Diseases, Gravel, and all Diseases peculiar to Males or Females, successfully treated.

Warts, Cures, Blisters, Ulcers, Wounds, Bleeding, Tumors, &c., removed. Esophagus, given to the treatment of Crooked Feet, Legs, Arms, Spine, Neck and all other deformities. Cross Eyes straightened, Harelips cured by an entirely new plan of operation. Operations for Strains in the Bladder, Polyps, Stricture of Uterus, Fistula, or the cure of Piles and Crooked Joints, and all diseases of the Eye Lids, Nose, Lips, Neck, &c., resulting from Burns or Wounds, performed upon the most scientific principles. All Diseases of the Eye can be cured with very great success.

Special attention given to the treatment of all diseases originating from the errors of intemperate YOUTH.

Patients from a distance, except in Surgical and Cancer cases, by sending a full description of their symptoms, can have medicines sent by Mail or Express, and be treated at home.

All letters promptly answered, and medicines ordered, immediately forwarded.

The Doctor is a graduate with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine, two thirds of which has been spent in Europe.

N. B.—All persons troubled with Asthma should send for Dr. Kingsley's ASTHMA SPECIFIC, which is warranted to relieve any case or many returns.

Send for DR. KINGSLEY'S AGUE SPECIFIC, which is purely vegetable and never fails to cure.

All people with a Cough of any kind should be sure to send for DR. KINGSLEY'S COUGH BALM, which cures as by magic.

For Further Particulars, Write the Doctor.

DRY GOODS!

WARSAW, N. Y.

ONE PRICE!

"THE WORLD MOVES!"

THE ONE PRICE SYSTEM A SUCCESS.

As we were the first to adopt, so we are the ONLY DRY GOODS CONCERN in this part of the State to practice the ONE PRICE SYSTEM—the only system which precludes from the Retail Counter the possibility of imposition and petty fraud.

The old lady looking over her spectacles, or the novice in the art of judging of the value of Goods, should feel as free from deception as those who think themselves "sharp" in appreciating qualities and values; and indeed, is not this a consideration which it were well for all to remember, since some, however clever, who do not devote their entire time to the handling of goods, can hardly and that may be known about them.

We now keep the best assorted, perhaps the largest, and by common consent, the cheapest stock of exclusive DRY GOODS kept in Wyoming County.

And, that we may more completely accommodate ourselves to the rapidly increasing demands of our business, we shall, at our convenience have added several feet to the length of our store, and our store to the effect. The second store will be devoted to CARPETS, and the third store to DUPLICATES AND UNOPENED CASES.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1886. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the heel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 19 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

REYNOLDS, BARBER & CO.,

Steel Tempering Works, Auburn, N. Y.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting to the public the initial number of the "Gazetteer and Directory of Wyoming County," the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect it in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of The Western New Yorker and The Wyoming Democrat, Warsaw; The Silver Lake Sun, Perry, and The Attica Atlas, Attica, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to the following persons, viz., Lawrence Mix, Esq., Assessor of Internal Revenue, Warsaw; J. P. Robinson, County Clerk, Warsaw; Prof. W. W. Bean, School Commissioner, Pike; E. F. Chaffee, School Commissioner, Attica; Amzi Wright, E. Brainard and Owen Cotton, Attica; James S. Tolles, Bennington; J. S. Miller, Wyoming; and to many others in various parts of the County who have kindly volunteered their aid.

The following works were also consulted in its preparation: "French's Gazetteer of the State of New York;" "Turner's Pioneer History of Western New York;" "History of Warsaw," by A. W. Young; "New York State Census Reports of 1865," and "Hotchkiss's History of the Presbyterian Church in Western New York."

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable, and that names have been omitted that should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. Of such as feel aggrieved in consequence of error or omission, we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as were observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Merrata, following the Introduction.

It is also suggested that our patrons observe and become familiar with the explanations at the commencement of the Directory.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

The Advertisers represent some of the leading business men and firms of the County, and also many enterprising and reliable dealers in other parts of the State. We most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

GAZETTEER.

Middlebury.—The First Presbyterian Church of Middlebury was organized June 14, 1817, in the school house in Wyoming, by Rev. John E. Bliss, a missionary. There were fifteen members at its organization, viz., Daniel C. Judd, Ebenezer Rich, Theresa Rich, Alexander Takles, Phileas Takles, Asa Hill, Sarah Hill, Phileas Sprague, Laura Sprague, Elizabeth Knowlton, Henry Read, Mary Bennett, Elsie Nelson, Desire Fisher and Itzhak Wright. Daniel C. Judd was the first Deacon, and Phileas Sprague, M. D., Clerk. The first Trustees, chosen July 19, 1819, were Alexander Takles, D. C. Judd, Ebenezer Rich, H. G. Walker, Phileas Sprague, Henry Wightman. The Church appears to have been organized as a Congregational Church, but March 23, 1822, the first Elders were chosen, consisting of Daniel C. Judd, Joseph Eastman and Timothy Judd. In 1825 Joseph Gilbert and H. G. Walker were elected to the same office, the former still retaining the office, having held it for forty-five years. Rev. Eli S. Hunter, D. D., was the first stated supply, commencing his services in 1825. The first church edifice was commenced in 1829, and was completed and dedicated Sept. 9, 1830, Rev. E. S. Hunter, preaching the sermon on the occasion. In June 1832, Rev. Norris Bull became the pastor and continued four years. During the next two years the Church was supplied by Revs. Parten, Shaffer, Colton and Birge. In 1838 Rev. Piny Twichel accepted the pastorate of the Church and continued until 1852, when he was succeeded by Rev. John W. Wood. In 1859 Rev. John Jones was installed pastor and continued until 1862, when the Rev. Charles Ray became the pastor, and has continued to the present time. In 1839 the organ was placed in the Church, chiefly through the instrumentality of General Stanton. In 1860 the bell was placed in the tower. In 1867 the church was extensively repaired and was re-dedicated June 2, 1868. On this occasion the pastor delivered an historical discourse from which we have been permitted to collate many items of interest. The whole number of members has been 417, the present membership is 172.

The Baptist Church of Wyoming was organized September 18, 1810. A delegation was present from Attica, the only Baptist church in this region at that time. The number of members at the organization was seventeen, viz., Thos. Stetson, Eliphalet Owen, Francis Curtis, Jonathan Thompson, Salmon Smith, David Thompson, Oliver Curtis, Isaac Andrus, Abigail Owen, Betsy Curtis, Sally Curtis, Mary Geer, Clara Andrus, Theresa Smith, Sally Thompson, Polly Curtis. In 1815 the Church united with the Holland Purchase Conference and had 39 members. Elder Joseph Case was the pastor of the Church a part of the time previous to 1829. From this time to 1825 Joshua Bradley was the pastor, and also the first principal of the Academy. During Elder Bradley's pastorate, aided by Elder Peckworth, the LaGrange Church was organized. In 1827 the Church withdrew from the Holland Purchase and united with the Genesee Baptist Association. From this time to 1830, Elder David Barnard was the pastor, and was succeeded by Elder Joseph Elliott, who divided his time between this Church and the one known as the Second Baptist Church of Middlebury. During his pastorate 508 members were added to the two Churches. In 1831 a new church edifice was erected and a select school kept in the basement by Elder Elliott. In 1833 he became the principal of the Academy and continued until 1838. He was succeeded by Elder Leach, who was succeeded in 1841 by Elder Jesse Elliott, who occupied the pulpit for eight years. The pastors since that time have been R. Mory, R. C. Palmer, H. Daniels, A. A. Russell, W. C. McCarthy, Elder Rockwood and M. P. Forbs. Monroe Weed was principal of the Academy for fifteen years, and also deacon of the Church. Quite a large number of persons have been licensed to preach by this Church, and several pastors and missionaries have here found a home.

The Baptist Church of West Middlebury was organized March 5, 1811, under the name of the "Third Baptist Church of Warsaw." In 1815, after the formation of Middlebury, it became the Second Baptist Church of this town. The names of the members at its organization, were Ebenezer Willson, Joseph Brundage, Elias Manger, Isaac Willson, Ichabed Cammins, Heman Brundage, Lydia Mallerson, Lydia Willson, Heman Darling, Rachel Bowers, Mercy Willson, Catharine Manger, Susannah Willson, Lydia Smith, Rachel Hill, Bebe Cammins and Keziah Darling. One of these is now living. The Church was organized chiefly through the instrumentality of Ebenezer Willson and his family. So zealous were these early settlers that they often went from three to five miles to attend their evening prayer meetings, guided in their course by marked trees. For six years after its organization the Church had no stated supply, Elders Jones, Troop, Hany, and others, preaching occasionally. When no minister was present, the services were conducted by the members, and consisted of exhortations, reading sermons &c. The result of these earnest efforts was an increase of eighty-one members in eight years. Elder Wm. Parterson was the first pastor. In 1820 Elder Joseph Elliott became the pastor of this Church and the one in Wyoming. A powerful revival took place, and during the next two years 97 were received into the West Church by baptism, and 36 by letter; while in the East Church, during the same time, 133 were baptized and 30 received by letter. By removals and other causes the membership has been greatly reduced and now numbers 93.

The Methodists held their first services in the town at the house of Mr. Jesse Vannorman, where Selden Allen now lives. Rev. Cyrus Story, one of the first Methodists in this town, is said to have been the first preacher of that denomination who crossed the Genesee River. The names of some of these pioneer Methodists were as follows: Jesse Vannorman and wife, Margaret and Jeremiah Newell, the former the mother of Silas Newell, and the latter his wife. A class was subsequently formed at Wright's Corners, consisting of Philip Perkins, Sr. and wife, Stephen Palmer, his wife and his mother, Horace Healy and wife, Philip Perkins, Jr., and wife, John Ewell and wife, Amos Peck and wife. For some time there was preaching once in two weeks at this place. In the fall of 1820 a class was formed at Wyoming, consisting of five members, and services were held in the brick school-house near the Academy, preaching by Rev. H. May once in two weeks. A house of worship was dedicated in Sept. 1835, since which regular services have been held. The present membership is about one hundred.

The Free Will Baptist Church at Dale, was organized May 8, 1824, chiefly through the labors of Rev. Herman Jenkins, the first pastor. Among the first members were Michael Simmons, Peter S. Vader, Tobias Vader, Thomas West, James Prescott, John Mallison, Catty Vader, Sally Protherton, Sarah Hewett, Joanna Hewett, Annah Vader and Huldah Mallison. About the year 1840 a comfortable and convenient house of worship was erected, the dedicatory sermon being preached by the pastor, Rev. H. N. Plumb. The whole number of members since the organization has been 673. The present membership numbers 129. Elder Andrews is the present pastor.

Green & Co., dealers in Dry Goods, Warsaw, N. Y., advertise on colored page 2. We take great pleasure in calling attention to this establishment, as it is one of the largest and best stores of the kind in the County. The proprietors began business about a year ago, and have built up a trade far surpassing anything before known in the history of Warsaw merchants. Two causes seem to have operated to bring about this result, viz., the one price system, which is strictly adhered to, thus guarding all customers against fraud, and selling to the most ignorant as cheap as to the best judge of goods; and the fact that they have a resident buyer in New York, who takes advantage of circumstances, buys cheap and gives the customers of Green & Co. the benefit of good bargains. Having a thorough knowledge of their business, buying close and selling at small advance, they secure ready sales, the immense amount of which gives them a handsome income, while smaller dealers would be unable to continue business. Small dealers and the public generally will consult their own interest by calling on Green & Co.

Versyburgh Hotel, is conveniently located for the accommodation of the public, and under the proprietorship of C. F. Prentice, cannot fail to meet the wants of the community. Give him a call. See card, page 210.

Dr. Kingsley, of Rome, justly celebrated for the many cures he has effected of that most distressing disease, Cancer, publishes a notice on page 1. He is prepared to treat all scrofulous diseases, and others, of long standing, and assures his patients that they will not be charged a heavy bill and dismissed without receiving any benefit. Persons who cannot conveniently call upon him in person, can address him by letter, and will receive prompt attention. Dr. K. is a graduate, with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine. Let the afflicted give him a call.

L. E. Walker, dealer in Books, Stationery, Pictures, Picture Frames, Stereoscopic Views &c., advertises on pages 151 and 227. This is a very large establishment and contains a larger stock and a greater variety of goods in the line of Stereoscopes and Views, Music, Stationery &c., than any other establishment in the County. It compares favorably with a first-class city establishment, and affords to dealers and others a rare opportunity to purchase anything to be found in a store of this kind. His stock of Stereoscopic Views is very large, embracing more than six hundred views of interesting places in Western New York. Mr. Walker is an enterprising man and is bound to build up an immense trade. We most cordially commend him to the patronage of this community.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

M. C. Williams & Co., dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, House Furnishing Goods, Notions, Dress Trimmings, in short almost everything wanted by the inhabitants, either to eat, drink, or wear, Perry, N. Y., advertise on page 222. Judging from the appearance of this store we would naturally infer that the proprietors took a list of all articles ever bought in the town, and then ordered a sufficient amount to supply all demands. If you want a suit of clothes throughout, from head to foot, here you have it; if you want to make a trip east, west, north or south, here you will find Trunk, Satchel or Valise of any size to suit. If you have just run your hock into the hymenial noose and are about to commence house-keeping, here you will find the articles required. If the ladder begins to rock lean, here is a supply from which you may replenish it. But time and space would fail should we attempt to enumerate a tithe of the articles, useful and ornamental, to be found at all times at Williams & Co's. We can only say, read the advertisement on page 23, and give them a call, or if you choose, call first at Smith's Block and read the advertisement afterwards.

The Reynolds Steel Temper- ing Works, Reynolds, Barber & Co., Proprietors, at Auburn, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Reaper and Mower knives, Plane Irons, Chisels &c. The process by which they temper steel is a peculiar one, and as patented by Mr. Reynolds, is the result of over forty years labor. This gentleman always worked on the plan that tempering steel was simply changing it from a fibrous to a granular state. He certainly has succeeded in producing a finer granulation (temper) than has ever before been produced. Messrs. Reynolds, Barber & Co. control the patents for these processes, and are applying them successfully in all their manufactures. Their establishment is capable of turning out an immense amount of work, yet their orders are now, and have been for some months, accumulating far in advance of their present ability to supply; a circumstance which they will not long allow to be the case. We predict that the time is not far distant when all Mower and Reaper Factories and farmers will use their improved sections. See their advertisement on pages 6 and 224.

Greene Brothers, manufacturers of Plain and Fancy Cassimeres, Doeskins, Flannels &c., Pike, N. Y., advertise on page 152. A mill was erected on Wiseau Creek, in the village of Pike, in 1829. It was burned and rebuilt in 1855. The goods made at this mill are too well known in this community to need any recommendation from us. The present proprietors of the mill will maintain the good name of the establishment and give good bargains to all buyers.

Dodge & Ford, manufacturers of Melodeons and Reed Organs, at Ithaca, N. Y., were formerly connected with Syracuse manufactories. They have since moved their business where lumber is cheap, and expenses less than in the larger cities, like New York, Boston, Albany or Syracuse. The styles of their organs are particularly their own, possessing all modern improvements, and some unknown to other manufacturers. They have found market for their instruments in every county of the State, and in Northern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have an increasing trade with the West, in all of which places they are brought into successful competition with the first Eastern manufacturers. They are both practical men, and have secured workmen of long experience and tried abilities. Situated midway between the Erie and N. Y. C. Railways, they can ship conveniently to all parts of the country. See card, page 22.

J. & P. B. Garrett, Wholesale and Retail dealers in Printing, Writing, Wrapping, Tissue, Roll and Fancy Papers, Printers' Supplies, Shipping Cases, Blank Books, &c., at No. 3 West Fayette street, Syracuse, have built up a heavy trade in their line, extending from Harrisburgh, in Pennsylvania, to the Canadian border. We have dealt considerably with this establishment, and have invariably been gratified in having our orders promptly filled, and always with just the article required. See card, page 142.

Warsaw Manufacturing Com- pany advertises on page 152. This Company has recently been re-organized and embraces some of the most enterprising business men of Warsaw. They keep on hand a large stock of Lumber, Shingles, Lath &c., and dress to order in the best manner. Doors, Sash and Blinds are largely manufactured. They are also extensively engaged in building, and will contract for churches, school-houses and all buildings, public and private. The well known character and responsibility of the prominent men in the Company is a sufficient guaranty that all work will be done according to contract. We commend them to the patronage of the people.

Howe's Never-Failing Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, and Howe's Concentrated Syrup, are prepared under the personal supervision of Dr. C. B. Howe, the proprietor, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for ague and fever, and all periodic diseases, rheumatism, paralysis, &c. The "Ague Cure" has produced wonderful cures. The "Syrup," for the blood, liver, skin, digestive and urino organs, has cured many cases of scrofula, cancer, tumors, goiter, salt rheum, scaldhead, and many other diseases too numerous to mention in this place. See card, page 20.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

The Western New Yorker, published at Warsaw, by Dudley & Merrill, was established in 1840 and very soon attained a good circulation. While devoted to the interests of the County, it contains a summary of general news, with a careful selection of miscellaneous matter, making it a valuable paper for the family. During the thirty years of its existence, it has become almost indispensable to many families, its weekly visits being looked for with interest and its contents devoured with avidity. It is advertised on page 218.

Thomas S. Glover, dealer in Dry Goods, Carpets, Wall Paper, &c., Warsaw, N. Y., advertises on inside first cover. This is another of these large establishments which the enterprising merchants of Warsaw know how to build up. Mr. Glover keeps an extensive assortment of all goods in his line. He pays special attention to Dress Goods, his stock being very large and comparing favorably with many establishments in the large cities. Country merchants will find it for their advantage to purchase their goods here, and save the transportation from New York, and at the same time obtain their goods as cheap as in the great Metropolis. Let them call and see.

Hyder Barnes, Manufacturer of the "Young Warrior Mower," Arcade, N. Y., advertises on page 16. This popular Mower has been before the public for about six years and has been constantly growing in favor with the farmers. It is simple, compact, neat, durable and of very light draft, and one of the easiest machines to manage which have ever been before the public. Farmers will do well to examine the "Young Warrior" before making a purchase. Mr. Barnes also makes Castings, does Machine Work, manufactures Cheese Boxes &c.; in short he is one of those men who, by a judicious expenditure of means and energies, go far towards building up prosperous villages.

Post's Hotel, Castle Station, affords good accommodations for travelers at reasonable prices. Mr. John Post, the proprietor, devotes his attention to the interests of his patrons, and travelers will find a quiet and comfortable home during their sojourn with him. His card appears on page 171.

W. H. Ainsworth, dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Varysburg, N. Y., advertises on page 182. Mr. A. keeps a general assortment of goods usually found in a country store, and farmers, merchants and others will find as good a stock from which to select, as in any other store in this vicinity. Farmers can always find a market for all kinds of Country Produce, and will receive cash or goods for the same at the market price. Give him a call.

Burke, Fitzsimons, Wone & Co., Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Dry Goods, Fancy Goods and Woolens, No. 53 Main street, Rochester, publish a card on page 235. This House was established in 1849, since which time its success has been uninterrupted, each year increasing its amount of business. Their annual sales amount to the enormous sum of near $1,500,000, their trade extending from the Eastern portions of the State to the "Far West." Occupying, as they do, fully 25,000 feet of flooring in actual business departments, every portion of which is crowded with immense piles of goods from foreign countries, as well as of domestic manufacture, renders the facilities of this house for Jobbing equal to any in the country. The firm are also proprietors of the "Genesee Falls Woolen Mills," where they manufacture 100,000 yards of goods annually.

Corbitt & Bradish, of the Genesee Agricultural Works, Batavia, N. Y., manufacture a great variety of the best Agricultural implements in use in this and adjoining States. Established in 1840, it has been constantly adding to the number and variety of articles until there is no place in the County where farmers can so readily procure everything needed for the cultivation of their farms. Read his advertisement on page 170.

Silver Lake House, Castle, N. Y., so long and favorably known to pleasure seekers, is still kept by Uriah Saxton, who knows how to cater to the appetites of his patrons. Parties will be furnished with refreshments and every facility for making an excursion pleasant. The House is located in the north part of the town, near the lake shore, and offers rare inducements to pleasure seekers. See card, page 160.

Edmund Fuller, General Merchant, Pike, N. Y., has recently improved his store by putting in a new front and otherwise improving the light and general appearance, so that it is now one of the finest stores in the town. His stock of goods has been selected with great care and with special reference to the wants of this community, and we feel confident that those who favor him with their patronage will obtain good goods and good bargains. Call and see for yourselves. His advertisement appears on page 194.

H. H. Cobleigh, manufacturer of Carriages and Cutters, Strykersville, N. Y., advertises on page 194. He keeps a good assortment on hand and makes to order any style to suit customers. In regard to style, material and workmanship, these carriages are not surpassed. There is no need of going out of town for anything made by Cobleigh. Give him a call.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.—Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 435,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 59, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.—Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock, which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 235,439. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.—White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 20, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,974 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, December 7, 1787. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres.—Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactories. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1783. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 67,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 32,203; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1731. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,231,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 20, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 26, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,526 acres. Population in 1860, 172,123 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1820, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,840 acres. Population in 1860, 791,365, of whom 436,631 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,389 square miles, or 13,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 20. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 42,670 to 41,807, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the clerk clerk system abolished.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 41,796,169 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,236 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. In February, 1867, Congress passed an act imposing certain conditions to admission, which were promptly accepted, and the territory became a State. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snowy, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,181,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 18, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,939,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,073. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5,221,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,635. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1694; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1693. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,764 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 231,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1803. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,339,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,696 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 23 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $$13$; or, if in reversion, renting for $$7$, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $$1$ tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1795; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,385 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 25th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viva voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,609 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,100,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the country are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 101,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,789, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 237,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 132,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 195 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1760; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,480 acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,533, of whom 451,440 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,524 for, and 32,134 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,318 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. White male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1868, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Mesilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,570 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDaho was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTEANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27° L. W. from Washington with the 45° N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,822. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,084,480 acres. Population, 40,273, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1850. Area 69,934 square miles, or 48,936,800 acres. Population 11,165, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

UTAH was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law."

the collection from the United States Government of claims by soldiers, or their legal representatives, for pensions, back pay, bounty, or for property lost in the service, exempt.

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1867:

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, after or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing: then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 151, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 153, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1861, by the officers of any county, town, or other ma-corporation in the discharge of their official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property when indorsed. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, non-vendum, or contract for the hire, use, or occupation of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or actual value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing. Whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such indorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements, bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast, and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when the instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 35 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 50 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cents.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi-monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 3 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 6 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 9 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be prepaid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

The recent postal treaty with Great Britain provides that besides letters and newspapers, "book packets," and "packets of patterns and samples," may be sent. Such packets—

1. Must contain no writing.
2. Must be fully prepaid (6 cents per 4 ounces from the U. S., or 3 pence sterling from Great Britain.)
3. Must be open at the ends to allow inspection.

Samples of merchandise must not be of intrinsic value.

Dutiable articles—books, music, &c., sent from Great Britain to the United States, must, in addition to the postage, pay the regular duties, which are—On books and engravings, 25 per cent.; music and photographs, 20 per cent.

If letters or articles sent to Italy are not prepaid, or are insufficiently paid, they will be charged with deficient postage, and subject to fine, on arrival at their destination.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHEWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures: SEE THRONICENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the REPRESENTED whitelines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pointing, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outline; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the life-like appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's name in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar;" and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines by its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impossible moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—fall of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a deprecator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them mired in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfillment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarion afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, most in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of industrial industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fail of fortune in this world, as they fail of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of society, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1863.

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emption or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 3d March, 1853; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.—Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, and as the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1892.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the subjoined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence, and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1830.

Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretenses, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.
17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.
18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.
19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.
20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.
21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.
22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.
23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.
24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.
25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.
26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.
27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.
28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.
29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.
30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.
31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.
32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.
33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.
34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.
35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.
36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.
37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.
38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.
39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.
40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.
41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.
42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.
43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.
44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.
45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.
46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.
47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. If an agreement upon which a party relies be oral only, it must be proved by evidence. But if the contract be reduced to writing, it proves itself; and now no evidence whatever is receivable for the purpose of varying the contract or affecting its obligations. The reasons are obvious. The law prefers written to oral evidence, from its greater precision and certainty, and because it is less open to fraud. And where parties have closed a negotiation and reduced the result to writing, it is presumed that they have written all they intended to agree to, and therefore, that what is omitted was finally rejected by them.—[PARSONS.

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an innkeeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, tho' unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a stevedore for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the word used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was used by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessities furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employees for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employees engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	N W 1/4 E
					S W 1/4 E
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
20	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER.

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about $39\frac{1}{2}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE.

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER.

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM.

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly counterbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—25 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given: Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $110 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent. premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $110, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent, and that he should receive $110.00 in gold.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dullest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public I have secured me sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $250,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiment: Take half a bushel of nice un-caked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine cloth or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small bowl within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes farther, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green turpentine may be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the white-wash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly soaked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct $\frac{1}{4}$ of a bushel. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 224. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 225 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels, &c.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—Pub.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPRAIN.—2 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. red precipitate; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. corrosive sublimate; $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.; common potash $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.; extract of belladonna $\frac{1}{2}$ dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is effected.

SCOURS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 5 times daily till cured.

GREASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. of warm water add 1 oz. laudanum and 3 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about $\frac{1}{2}$ of an hour, adding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BORS.—Three doses. 1st. 2 qts milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a five cent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is effected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHOE.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 2 ozs.; meat-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of origanum $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half a boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of soda made fine; one ounce of pulverized resin; stir it often till it is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 2 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground mustard, 2 oz. salt and 2 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure $1\frac{1}{2}$ table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 2 hours apart, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good bitter before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer; pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To fine whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be as gentle as a lamb to please; but he will have too much good-bud in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

FELONS.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 6 hours.

A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER-PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a table-spoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

Mosquitos.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. It is SUPERIOR.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circus, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is that a cube, each side of which shall measure eight feet, of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack will weigh a ton. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

WYOMING COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Genesee, May 14, 1841. Eagle, Pike and a part of Portage, were annexed from Allegany County in 1846. It is an interior county, situated in the southwest part of the State, and separated from Lake Erie by Erie County, and from the Pennsylvania line by Allegany and Cattaraugus Counties. It is centrally distant from Albany 228 miles, and contains 590 square miles.

The surface is a broad rolling upland, divided into ridges and broken by ravines worn by the streams. It has a slight inclination towards the north. The highest ridges rise to the height of 1,200 to 1,500 feet above Lake Erie, and 1,700 to 2,000 feet above tide. Some of the ravines are 1,000 feet below the summits of the adjacent ridges in the north part. As we approach the interior we find the ridges broken, and the country begins to assume the hilly character which is more fully developed in the south part.

Genesee River forms a portion of the east boundary, and is bordered by bluffs from 200 to 400 feet high. Near Portageville the river descends from the plateau, in a series of three Falls, to a depth of more than 300 feet within a distance of two and a half miles. The Upper or Horse Shoe Falls are about three-fourths of a mile below Portageville, and a few rods below the railroad bridge. The name is derived from the curve in the Falls resembling a horse shoe. For a short distance above the edge of the precipice the water is broken by a succession of steps in the rock, forming a series of rapids. The height of the fall, including the rapid, is about seventy feet. About half a mile further down are the Middle Falls. For a few rods above the edge of the cliff, the water is broken into rapids, and then plunges down a distance of 110 feet in an unbroken sheet. The chasm below is bounded by perpendicular ledges. A cave, called the "Devil's Oven," has been worn in the rocks under the west bank, near the bottom of the Falls. When the water is low, one hundred persons can be seated within this cave, but in high water it is filled, and is only accessible by boats. The Lower Falls consist of a series of rapids about half a mile in extent, with an aggregate fall of 150 feet. For about two miles below the Middle Falls, the river pursues a winding and rapid course, between high perpendicular walls, then descends in regular steps, almost as regular as a staircase, dives under a shelving rock, shoots out in a narrow pass, not more than fifteen feet wide, and rushes down a nearly perpendicular descent of twenty feet. A short distance below the foot of this fall, the current strikes against the base of high rocks, standing almost directly in its course, and whirls back, and turning almost at right angles, rushes into a deep pool overhung with shelving rocks. A mass of rocks, about fifteen feet in diameter and one hundred feet high, and known as "Sugar Loaf," rises from the river bed at the bend of the stream, and receives nearly the whole force of the rushing water. This mass of rock is bordered on one side by the present bed of the river, and on the other by a deep chasm which separates it from the east bank of the river. Within the memory of people now living, the river flowed over the precipice, on the level of the rock which now forms its west bank, making "Sugar Loaf" an island. These falls are accessible only from the west. The deep gorge, and the rapids and falls, form one of the wildest and most picturesque scenes in Western New York. The perpendicular bank on the west side of the river, at one point, is 380 feet high.

The other principal streams in the County are Cayuga, Tonawanda, Little Tonawanda, Oatka, East Coy, Wiscoy, Cattaraugus and Buffalo Creeks. The valley of Oatka Creek is bordered by hills from 400 to 1,000 feet high, and extending from the south border of Warsaw to near the north border of the County. The principal body of water is Silver Lake, in the town of Castile; it is three miles long and about half a mile wide.

The rocks of the County are principally the shales and sandstones of the Portage group. The rocks of the Chemung group appear on the summits of the hills in the south part. The Portage sandstone is found in many parts of the County, in thin compact layers, and is quarried extensively for flagging. Little rounded knolls are seen upon the ridges, and at first appear like drift hills, but upon a close examination are found to be shale rock, covered with a thin layer of soil. The swamps afford marl and muck in considerable quantities. The waters of Silver Lake, and some of the streams, are constantly depositing lime in the form of marl. The drift deposits in the County are quite extensive, and the soil in some parts is formed from the disintegration of the rocks. The soil upon the hills is chiefly a clay loam, underlaid by hardpan, and in the valleys it is a fertile gravelly loam and alluvium.

The people are principally engaged in raising stock and wool, and in dairying, for which the soil upon the hills is admirably adapted. The various kinds of grain and fruits are largely cultivated in the valleys. The manufactures are very limited and confined to such articles as are necessary in an agricultural community.

The County Seat is located at Warsaw. The Court House is a commodious brick edifice, located in the north part of the village. The Commissioners named in the act to select a location were Peter B. Reed, of Onondaga, Davis Hurd, of Niagara, and John Thompson, of Steuben County. The Building Commissioners were John A. McElwain, Paul Richards and Jonathan Perry. Trumbull Cary, Esq., of Batavia, gave to the County the public square upon which the County buildings are erected.

The first Courts were held at a public house at East Orangeville, in June, 1841, and the first meeting of the Board of Supervisors was at the same place. At the opening of the first Court in Orangeville, the following attorneys, most of whom were residents of the County, were admitted to practice: John B. Skinner, James J. Petit, Harvey Putnam, Lewis W. Pray, Moulton Farnham, F. C. D. McKay, William Mitchell, Linus W. Thayer, Leverett Spring, James R. Doolittle, Levi Gibbs, Miles Moffitt, Harley F. Smith, W. Riley Smith, Isaac N. Stoddard.

The first County officers were Paul Richards, First Judge; James Sprague, Peter Patterson and Jos. Johnson, Associate Judges; W. Riley Smith, District Attorney; N. Wolcott, County Clerk; W. R. Groger, Sheriff; and Harvey Putnam, Surrogate.

The County Clerk's Office is a fire-proof building, adjacent to the Court House. The Jail is a wood building, arranged so as to enable the keeper to classify the prisoners according to law. The County buildings were erected in 1842, at a cost of $12,000.

The Sheriffs of this County, since its organization in 1841, have been Wm. R. Groger, Roswell Gardner, Abraham Smith, Timothy H. Burton, Jarius Moffitt, Newcomb Demary, Jr., Mills L. Rice, Wm. D. Miner, John Renwick, William Davis. The County Clerks have been Nelson Wolcott, Walter Howard, Abel Webster, Ransom B. Crippen, Nathan P. Currier, John H. Bailey, Charles O. Shepard. Charles W. Bailey, Ransom A. Crippen, John P. Robinson. The County Treasurers have been Truman Lewis, Wm. Bingham, Roswell Gould, John A. McElwain, Samuel S. Blanchard, Peter Caner, Lloyd A. Hayward, Leonard

W. Smith, Harwood A. Dudley. The First Judges of the County have been Paul Richards, John B. Skinner, W. Riley Smith, Marvin Trall, Harlow L. Comstock, Byron Healy. The District Attorneys have been W. Riley Smith, James R. Doolittle, Harlow L. Comstock, F. C. D. McKay, Thomas Corlett, Byron Healy, Elbert E. Farman.

The County Poor House is located at Varysburgh, nine miles west of Warsaw. The following, from the Report of the Commissioners of Public Charities, gives a good idea of the situation at the time of their visit:

"The principal building, erected in 1864, is constructed of wood, is two stories in height and forty feet square, with a wing extending to the rear, fourteen by sixteen feet on the ground. The structure is painted white and adorned with an appropriate observatory, and the windows are protected by suitable blinds. The place presents an attractive appearance, and the building resembles a well appointed farm house. The old buildings, situated in the rear, are soon to be demolished, and new ones erected in their stead. They are now used in part, and are sufficient to meet the wants of the County poor.

"The asylum for the insane is situated at the left and rear of the other buildings. It is nearly new, constructed of wood, is two stories high and thirty by thirty-six feet on the ground. The lower hall, occupied by the men, is fourteen by thirty feet in area, and connected with and opening into it are nine well furnished rooms; the upper hall, twenty by twenty-six feet, is connected with seven similar rooms used by the women. The building is well arranged, and a proper regard is paid to ventilation and the cleanliness of the patients. Large yards, situated at the rear, afford them sufficient grounds for out-door exercise in pleasant weather, and in inclement weather the halls are used. A matron devotes her entire time to the care of the women, and the keeper attends to the wants of the men. Their food is prepared and served apart from the other inmates, and is of suitable quality and furnished in sufficient quantities. Nine contribute three dollars per week towards their support; the residue are maintained at the expense of the County. A physician visits the asylum daily and devotes special attention to the insane. Recent cases are received, not only from the County, but also from adjoining counties, and it was stated that several have been discharged cured during the past year. Of those present, none were found in restraint, and a large proportion of them labor more or less about the house or upon the farm. The institution is admirably managed, and the good order and neatness apparent, are alike creditable to the authorities of the County and to those in immediate charge.

The general affairs pertaining to the poor of the County are controlled by three superintendents. A keeper, who has occupied the position for the past eight years, residing upon the premises, has the immediate charge of the institution. Connected with the house, and constituting a part of the property, is a farm of one hundred and seventy-eight acres, estimated to be worth $13,500. The Superintendents report $200 derived from the aid of pauper labor for the past year. During the same period there were supported in the house 178 persons, at a cost of $5,575.63, and there was expended also for temporary relief for the year, $422.27; the aggregate expenses amounting to $6,798.90. A majority of those supported or relieved at the public expense, were native born, and nearly all were of adult age, there being but six children in the house during the year. At the date of visitation sixty-five persons were found present, thirty of whom were of foreign and thirty-five of native birth. There were included among the number five children, sixteen insane, ten idiotic and one blind. A large number were of mature age and presented appearances of respectability. One, a female, was said to be one hundred and ten years old. She was admitted to the house in 1865, and is in good health, retaining vigor sufficient to enable her to attend to her own room. Quite a number were over seventy years of age, and there was a remarkable absence of that middle aged, able-bodied class of persons, that overrun most County houses.

"Intemperance contributes but slightly towards the amount of pauperism in the County, a large majority of those accepting aid being reduced to a condition of dependency in consequence of insanity, sickness or old age."

From the report of the Superintendents of the Poor, Nov. 12, 1869, we learn that the expense of supporting the poor at the Poor House, during the last year, was $5,069.00. The average number supported was sixty-seven, at a weekly expense of $1.37 each. The amount expended for temporary relief was $544.18.

The following resolution was passed by the Board of Supervisors after visiting the County Poor House in November 1869:

Resolved, "That the Board of Supervisors, having visited the County Poor House in a body, report to the people that they found the house and premises in the usual well ordered condition, which is as high praise as can possibly be awarded to the excellent and competent Superintendent and Keeper. That the internal affairs are in good hands, and the County Poor well cared for."

The Buffalo Division of the Erie Railway, extends south-east through Attica, Middlebury, Warsaw, Gainesville, Castile and Genesee Falls, crossing the river near the Portage Falls, and connecting with the main line at Hornellsville.

The Genesee Valley Canal crosses the river at Portageville, on an aqueduct supported by stone piers forty feet high. The structure cost $70,000.

The Rochester and State Line R. R., connecting Rochester with the Pennsylvania State line, is in contemplation. The route from Rochester to the junction with the Erie Railway has been located. It passes up the valley of the Oatka Creek, through Covington, Middlebury and Warsaw. This road will open a direct communication with the coal mines of Pennsylvania, and a large and prosperous agricultural region.

The first newspaper published in the County, was

The Genesee Register, which was established at Warsaw, in 1828, by L. & W. Walker, and was continued six months.

The Warsaw Sentinel was commenced by Andrew W. Young, in May 1830, and continued until December 1831, when it was merged in the Republican Advocate of Batavia.

The Attica Republican was started by David Scott, in 1833-4. It was soon after changed to

The Attica Republican and Genesee Advertiser. E. A. Cooley became its publisher, who changed it to

The Attica Democrat, and continued it until 1846.

The Genesee Recorder was commenced at Perry, by George M. Shipper, in 1834, and continued about two years.

The American Citizen was commenced at Warsaw, in 1836, by J. A. Hadley. The next year it was removed to Perry, and published by Mitchell & Warren. • The publication was continued until 1841, when it was removed to Rochester.

The Pike Whig was commenced by Thomas Carrier in 1838. Soon after the name was changed to

The Pike Gazette, and was continued for about a year.

The Watch Tower, a Baptist paper, was issued from the office of the American Citizen in 1839. It was published about a year by Ansel Warren.

The Register was published as a campaign paper in 1840, at Perry, by Isaac N. Stoddard and John H. Bailey.

The Perry Democrat was commenced in 1841 by Peter Lawrence. In 1848 it passed into the hands of C. C. Britt, who continued it until 1853.

THE WESTERN NEW YORKER was commenced at Perry, in January 1841, by J. H. Bailey. A few months afterwards it passed into the hands of Barlow & Woodward, who removed it to Warsaw. It was successively published by Barlow & Blanchard, Blanchard, and H. A. Dudley, until April 1, 1858, when it passed into the hands of Elijah W. Andrews, and afterwards to Andrews & Harrington, Harrington & Farmer, Morse & Merrill, and then to W. H. Merrill, who continued its publication until October 1864, when it was united with the Wyoming Mirror, and has since been published by Dudley & Merrill.

The Countryman was commenced at Perry, by N. S. Woodward, in 1843. It soon after passed to Daniel S. Curtis, who changed its name to

The Impartial Countryman, and continued it until August 1864, when it passed to Ansel Warren, who changed its name to

The Free Citizen, and continued it until August 1847.

The Wyoming Republican was commenced at Warsaw, by E. L. Fuller, in 1844, and continued until March 1847.

The Attica Telegraph was commenced by Abraham Dinsmore, in October 1846, and was continued about two years.

The Old Eighth Whig was commenced at Attica, April 1, 1848, by R. W. Dibble and W. H. Civer. About six months afterwards Mr. Dibble retired, and Mr. Civer continued the paper as

The Spirit of the Old Eighth, until 1850.

THE ATTICA ATLAS was commenced January 1, 1851, by Silas Folsom, by whom it is still published.

The Christian Investigator was published at the office of the Free Citizen for one year. It was edited by Wm. Gooddell.

The Wyoming County Advertiser was commenced Decembr 22, 1853, and was published one year by Horace Wilcox.

The Wyoming Times was commenced at Perry, by T. S. Gillett, in May 1855. It was destroyed by fire in 1856, and revived soon after, and its publication continued for a time.

The Wyoming County Mirror was commenced at Warsaw, in March 1848, by Alanson Holley. In the fall of 1849, H. A. Dudley became a partner in the concern, and the paper was published by Holley & Dudley until September 1850, when Mr. Dudley disposed of his interest, and Mr. Holley continued its publication until may 1855, when he sold out to E. L. Babbitts and R. S. Lewis. In March 1857 Mr. Lewis became sole proprietor. In March 1858 W. H. Merrill became a partner, and January 1, 1859, H. A. Dudley became its publisher, and continued to issue it until October 1864, when it was united with the Western New Yorker.

The Arcade Enterprise was started March 31, 1859, by J. H. Gibson, by whom it was published for several years.

MASONIC TIDINGS was commenced in 1865. It is published semi-monthly, at Warsaw, by John Ransom. Its name indicates its character.

THE WYOMING DEMOCRAT was started at Warsaw in March 1863, by John Ransom, its present publisher.

THE SILVER LAKE SUN was started at Perry, Dec. 1, 1865. George A. Sanders is the present editor and proprietor.

The eastern tier of towns in this County, except a portion of Castile, belonged to the Ogden, Silver Lake and Cotringer Tracts, of the Morris Reservation, and the remaining parts of the County to the Holland Purchase. The Gardeau Tract, containing 17,927 acres, on both sides of the Genesee, was reserved for Mary Jemison, by the Seneca Nation, in their treaty with Robert Morris in 1797. About half of this tract lies in the present town of Castile. She and her descendants continued to reside upon this tract until 1816, when she sold all but two square miles on the west side of the river, to Micah Brooks and Jellis Clute. The remaining part she sold, in 1831, to Henry B. Gibson and Jellis Clute, and removed to Cattaraugus Reservation.

Mary Jemison, known as the "White Woman," was of Irish parentage, born in 1743, during the voyage across the ocean. The family settled upon the western frontier of Pennsylvania, where they remained in peace until the breaking out of the French War in 1754. In the summer of 1755, the house was surrounded by a band of Indians and Frenchmen, who plundered all that was valuable and carried the whole family away captive. They were taken into the forest immediately, and all murdered and scalped, except Mary and a small boy, who were carried to Fort DuQuesne. She was soon after adopted by two Indian sisters, and taken to an Indian settlement on the Ohio, to supply the place of a brother who had been slain in battle. She received the name of Deh-he-wa-mis, meaning "a beautiful girl." The sorrow consequent upon being torn from her friends, gradually wore away, and she became quite reconciled to her condition. After arriving at a suitable age she was married to a young Delaware Indian named Shenenjee. In 1759 she changed her residence, traveling on foot to the Genesee, and fixing her residence at Little Beard's Town. Her husband died soon after, and she married an Indian named Hiakatoo, two or three years after. At the close of the French War she might have returned to the English, but she chose to remain with the Indians. Atter the close of the Revolution she received a grant of the "Gardeau Reservation," which was about six miles in length and five in width. Though she adopted the customs and habits of the Indians, she retained her knowledge of the English language and remembered the early instructions of her mother. Towards the close of her life she embraced the Christian religion, and died September 19, 1833, aged 90 years. When Gen. Sullivan invaded the Genesee country, her house and fields shared the fate of the rest. Seeing them all destroyed, she set about preparing for the coming winter. Taking her two youngest children on her back, and bidding three others to follow, she sought employment where, by husking, she paid for twenty-five bushels of shelled corn, enough to supply her through the winter. She passed through such vicissitudes as fall to the lot of but few in this life.

The greater part of this County is embraced in the tract known as the Holland Purchase, some of the eastern towns being included in the Morris Reserve. The territory known as Western New York was originally claimed by Massachusetts, by virtue of a charter granted by the King of England to the Plymouth Colony. The same territory was subsequently granted to the Duke of York and Albany. Without giving a history of the disputes which subsequently arose between the States of Massachusetts and New York, we will say that the question was settled by a convention of commissioners who met at Hartford, Conn., December 16th, 1786. According to the stipulations entered into, Massachusetts ceded to New York all her claims to the sovereignty and jurisdiction of the territory lying west of the east boundary of New York, and the State of New York ceded to Massachusetts the right of pre-emption to the soil of all that part of New York lying west of a meridian passing through a point in the south boundary of the State, eighty-two miles west of the north-east corner of Pennsylvania, except a strip one mile wide extending along the east bank of Niagara River, from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario. In April, 1788, Massachusetts contracted to sell this territory to Nathaniel Gorham and Oliver Phelps, for 300,000 pounds in the consolidated securities of that State, which were at a discount of more than fifty per cent. at that time. The rapid advance in the value of these securities rendered Phelps and Gorham unable to fulfill their contract, and a large part of the purchase reverted to the State. The part retained and subsequently known as the Phelps and Gorham Purchase was bounded east by the pre-emption line already described, and west by a meridian passing through the point at the junction of the Canaseraga Creek and Genesee River, south to the south line of the State, and north from this point along the Genesee River to a point two miles north of the village of Canawagus, thence west twelve miles, thence northwardly to Lake Ontario, at a distance of twelve miles from the Genesee River. On the 12th of March, 1791, the State of Massachusetts sold the territory west of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase to Robert Morris, the assignee of Samuel Ogden. Mr. Morris sold to the Holland Company all this tract lying west of a meridian passing through a point twelve miles west of the south-west corner of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase.

The territory lying between the Holland Purchase and the Phelps and Gorham Purchase was called "Morris' Reserve," and was sold out to various parties in large tracts. The sale was made to the Holland Company before the Indian title was extinguished, but with an agreement on the part of Morris that it should be extinguished as soon as practicable. This was effected at a treaty made at Big Tree, near Genesee, in September, 1797. In this treaty the Indians retained certain reservations in different parts of the Purchase, some of which they continue to occupy. Preparations were soon made to survey this tract, and a line, run with a transit instrument, between Morris's Reserve and the Holland Purchase, was called the "Transit Line." Theophilus Cazenove, of Philadelphia, was the general agent of the Company, and Joseph Ellicott the principal surveyor. It was surveyed into ranges numbered from east to west, and into townships about six miles square, numbered from south to north. The townships were subdivided into lots, three-fourths of a mile square, and numbered from south to north, commencing with the east tier. Mr. Ellicott contracted with Thomas Morris to deliver on the Genesee River or on the shore of Lake Ontario, one hundred barrels of pork, fifteen barrels of beef and two hundred and seventy barrels of flour, for the supply of the surveyors the ensuing year. The survey commenced early in the spring of 1798. The principal surveyors were Joseph and Benjamin Ellicott, John Thompson, Richard M. Stoddard, George Burgess, James Dewey, David Ellicott, Aaron Oakford, Jr., Augustus Porter, Seth Pease, James Smedley, William Shepherd and George Eggleston. Previous to the sale to the Holland Company Mr. Morris had sold the Triangle Tract, of 87,000 acres, to LeRoy, Bayard and McEvers, and 100,000 acres directly west of this, to the State of Connecticut and Sir William Pulteney. On arriving at the south line of the Connecticut Tract, Mr. Ellicott found that the east line of the Holland Purchase would intersect that tract, to avoid which he moved west 2 miles and 25 1-5 rods, and then run the line due north to Lake Ontario. This offset is near the center of the town of Stafford.

Theophilus Cazenove was the general agent of the Holland Company until 1799. He was succeeded by Paul Busti, who continued in charge of the affairs of the Company until 1824. He was succeeded by John J. Vander Kemp, who continued in charge of the affairs of the Company until their settlement.

The first principal stations of the surveyors were at Williamsburgh and Buffalo Creek, but before the close of 1798 the principal establishment was located at Stafford, and the locality designated as the "Transit Store House." Mr. James Brisbane was the chief clerk.

The Land Office was at first located at Pine Grove, the residence of Asa Ransom, but in 1802, upon the organization of Genesee County, it was removed to Batavia, where it remained until the closing up of the affairs of the Company. Joseph Ellicott, the principal surveyor of the Company, received the appointment of local agent, and for more than twenty years had almost exclusive control of the local business. He was an enterprising citizen, and conducted the large and complicated business of the Company with marked ability. In 1821 he resigned his agency and was succeeded by Jacob S. Otto, who held the office until his death in 1827. David E. Evans was Otto's successor and continued in office until 1837, when the business of the Company was closed up. In 1811 Ebenezer Mix entered the service of the Company as a clerk and had control of the sales and subdivisions of the land.

In 1835 the Company sold all their remaining lands to a new Company, composed chiefly of citizens of Batavia, and a new order of things was established. Difficulties immediately arose between the new Company and the settlers in various parts of the Purchase, and mobs assembled to destroy the land offices. One of the principal causes of disturbance was a rumor that the new Company intended to exact a certain sum for the renewal of every contract. This rule became very obnoxious, and the extra payment was called the "Genesee Tariff," and opposition to it was extensively resolved upon. The office at Mayville, Chautauqua Co., was broken open Feb. 6, 1836, the books and papers seized and burned in the street. On the 13th of May a report reached Batavia that 100 armed men were on their way to burn the Land Office at that place. Mr. Evans at once fortified the office and collected a force of fifty men well armed to protect it. The militia were also called out. The mob soon came into town, but learning of the preparations that had been made to receive them, concluded that "discretion was the better part of valor," and went away without offering any violence. Between fifty and sixty of the ringleaders were prosecuted, but the difficulties were afterwards amicably adjusted and the prosecutions dropped.

The opening of this new region to settlement, under the auspices of a rich and liberal company, instituted a new order of things in the general history of the County, and was of incalculable benefit to the settlers. Mills were erected, roads opened and everything done to facilitate settlement and to remove difficulties in the path of the settlers. The lands were sold at fair prices and on the most liberal terms. The affairs of the Company, both at their general and local offices, were conducted by gentlemen of liberal culture, enlarged views and humane hearts. In consequence of the richness of the lands and the liberal terms upon which it was offered by the Company, the whole region rapidly filled up with an industrious, intelligent and enterprising population. Many of the first settlers afterwards occupied high official positions and became known throughout the State for their ability and integrity.

The first white man who lived in the County was Ebenezer Allan, a notorious Tory, commonly known as Indian Allan. He was a native of New Jersey, joined the marauders who, under Brant, scourged with fire and sword the Susquehanna Valley, and towards the close of the Revolutionary War settled upon the Genesee, cultivating for a time the fertile river flats belonging to Mary Jemison. He subsequently erected mills at Rochester, and afterwards lived for a time on Outka Creek, until his removal to Canada. His character as portrayed by his acts recorded in history, was one of the most depraved in the annals of our country.

The first permanent white settlers were John Tolles, Jacob Wright, Nathaniel Sprout and Stephen Crow, in 1802. The settlements increased rapidly, and in a few years a large part of the best lands were taken up. The early emigrants were chiefly from New England, and their influence for industry and enterprise has not yet disappeared. Many of the later immigrants were Germans.

In laying out the roads upon the Holland Purchase, the usual custom appears to have been to have them run parallel, north and south, and east and west, crossing at right angles, so that each lot might have a highway on two of its sides at least. While this appears to have been the rule, variations from it were caused by swamps or hills, and sometimes important roads were laid out obliquely, to shorten distances. The first road running east and west was the "Old Buffalo Road," extending through the towns of Perry, Warsaw and Sheldon. This road passed about a mile and a half north of the village of Warsaw, and through the village of Varysburgh. Another road, with the same general direction, was laid out about three-fourths of a mile south of the Buffalo Road, within a few years. In 1816, the State Road, from Canandaigua to Lake Erie, was surveyed by Lemuel Foster. It was originally laid out one rod and fifty links wide.

The Wyoming County Agricultural Society was formed in October, 1843. The following were the first officers of the Society: James C. Ferris, President; Dr. Augustus Frank, Vice President; Linus W. Thayer, Secretary; and John A. McElwain, Treasurer. The first Fair was held at Warsaw, September 30th and October 1st, 1844. The Fairs have generally been successful and highly creditable to the County. In 1856 the Society was reorganized, and grounds were purchased in the south-west part of the village of Warsaw as a permanent place for holding the Fairs. The site consists of fifteen acres well adapted to the purposes for which it was purchased.

The record of the County during the Great Rebellion was highly creditable to the patriotism of the people. We have not the data to determine accurately the full extent of the men and means contributed for the support of the Government, but we hazard nothing in saying that few if any counties in the State did more in proportion to their men and means than Wyoming.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

ARCADE was formed from Sheldon, as China, March 6, 1818. Its name was changed by act of the Legislature, passed January 19, 1866. Java was taken off in 1832. In 1866 the three eastern tiers of lots, numbered from one to twenty-four, were annexed to Eagle, and in 1869 the Supervisors of the County voted unanimously to reannex the same to Arcade. It is the south-west corner town in the County. The surface is a rolling or hilly upland, broken by the valleys of the streams. Cattaraugus Creek, the principal stream, flows in a south-westerly direction through the town, a little south of the center, and receives as tributaries several small streams, the principal of which is Clear Creek, from the south. From the valleys the surface spreads out into a rolling region, with long gradual slopes, which are arable to their summits. The highest point is the ridge in the north-east, which is 1,100 feet above Lake Erie, as determined by actual survey. The soil upon the uplands is a clayey loam, and in the valleys gravelly.

Arcade, (p. v.) situated in the south-west part of the town, on Cattaraugus Creek, at the mouth of Clear Creek, contains three churches, viz., Baptist, Methodist and Congregationalist; an academy, a hotel, a grist mill, a foundry, two saw mills, a cheese box factory, a tannery, three dry goods stores, a book store, three groceries, a bank, a marble shop, a sash and blind factory, a carriage shop, a paint shop, several other stores and shops of various kinds, and about 800 inhabitants.

Wilson's Corners (West Eagle p. o.) contains a Roman Catholic church and about half a dozen dwellings.

This town was first settled in 1809, by Silas Meech. He was soon after followed by Ichabod Sanders, Samuel Nichols, Silas and Leonard Parker, Jacob Jackson, William Barnes, Amasa and Alfred Kilbourn, most of whom were from Vermont, and settled in 1809 and 1810.

Mr. Parker came in the spring of 1810. There was then only one house between Arcade Center and Pike Hollow, twelve miles distant. There were no roads, marked trees being the only guide for travelers. Bears and wolves were numerous, many of which were killed by Mr. Parker. He was obliged to go to Warsaw to mill, twenty-four miles distant, and to Moscow, thirty-five miles, for meat.

The first birth was that of a daughter of Jacob Jackson, and the second was that of a son of Samuel Nichols, both in 1810. The first marriage was that of Silas Meech and Lydia Parker, daughter of Leonard Parker; and the first death that of Mrs. A. Kilbourn, in the spring of 1812; the coffin was made of boards hewn out with an ax. Rebecca Parker taught the first school, in 1811; Silas Parker kept the first inn, in 1812, and the first store, in 1815. Major Moses Smith erected the first saw mill, in 1811, and Col. Ducl Rowley the first grist mill, in 1810.

The first religious services were conducted by Rev. John Spencer, at Arcade, in 1812. The first church was organized at Arcade village by Rev. John Spencer, July 24, 1813. It was organized as a Congregational church, but afterwards adopted the Presbyterian form of government.

Heman Wilson has been a resident of Wyoming County longer than any other man now living in the County. He has been a justice of the peace for 34 years.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,903, and its area 21,300 acres.

The number of children of school age in the town is 435; the number attending school, 379, and the average attendance, 154.

ATTICA was formed from Sheldon, April 4, 1811; Orangeville was taken off in 1816. It is located on the north border of the County, a little west of the center. The surface is chiefly a rolling upland, broken by the ravines of the streams. There are several hills in the east part, with long gradual slopes. Tonawanda Creek is the principal stream; it flows through the north-west corner, and receives numerous branches from the east, the largest of which is Crow Creek. The soil is a clay and gravelly loam.

Attica, (p. v.) situated in the north-west part of the town, on Tonawanda Creek, was incorporated May 2, 1837, and contains six churches, viz., Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist, Lutheran, P. W. Baptist and Roman Catholic; a newspaper printing office, two banks, a union school, a flouring mill, several other mills and manufactories and about 1,500 inhabitants. The creek is crossed by a substantial iron bridge; the streets are bordered by fine shade trees and good flag stone sidewalks, and the village contains many pleasant residences. The Buffalo Division of the Erie Railway extends through the village, and a branch of the N. Y. C. R. R. extends from Batavia.

Attica Center, a little south-east of the center of the town, is a hamlet.

The first settlement was made in 1802, by Zerah Phelps. Deacon Porter, Nathaniel Sprout, Isaac Townsend and Major P. Adams, were among the other early settlers. In 1804 John Smith, John Richards, Stewart Gardner, Daniel Gardner, Daniel Burbank, Nathaniel Sprout, Jr., Eli Hayes, Daniel White, Zaddock Williams and Zaddock Whipple, took contracts for land in this town. In 1805 Lemuel Whaley, Nehemiah Osborn, Joseph Munger, John Kean, Francis Rogers, Joel Bradner, Dan. Adams, Elihu Beckwith, Elijah Rice, Joseph Hopkins, David Beckwith, Benjamin Moulton, Simeon Porter, Luther Stanhope, Stephen Crawford, Orator Holcomb, Benjamin Nelson, Nathaniel Eastman, Samuel Smith, Nancy Wood, Thomas Whaley, Patrick Alvord, Levi Stanhope, Joseph Munger, John M. Coffin, Eliphalet Hodges, Benjamin Powers and Clark Burlingame, are named among those who took contracts for land and soon after became settlers. Oliver Hodges came in 1805, and Asher Gardner in 1808. Mr. Gardner died Jan. 2, 1869, aged 89 years.

In 1806 Owen Cotton, from Vermont, a millwright by trade, came to this town and engaged in the erection of a saw mill for Zerah Phelps. John Wilder and Asa Johnson were in his employ, and did most of the work required in putting in the running gear. Phelps at this time owned most of the present site of Attica village. The next year John and Joseph Wilder, and Asa Johnson, bought out Phelps' mills at Attica.

About this time William Vary had erected a saw mill at Varysburgh, in Sheldon, and Wilder and Johnson put him up a small grist mill with one run of "rock stones." The grist mill was burned in 1809, with about a thousand bushels of grain. Wilder and Johnson built a new grist mill and saw mill the same year. The first clothing and carding establishment at Attica was erected by two brothers named Fuller. In 1809 Trumbull Cary, of Batavia, sent a stock of goods to Attica, which were deposited in a part of Mr. Wilder's house. This was the first store in the town. In 1811 Gains B. Rich opened a store. Mr. Wilder erected a distillery the same year. The Wilders retained the mills already noticed, until 1818, when they sold out to Parmenio Adams.

The early settlers of Attica had a novel place to hold their first singing school. It was in a hollow buttonwood tree. Though not as large as the giant trees of California, it was, when felled, large enough for a common sized man to stand erect and walk through it. In this log, about thirty feet in length, seats were placed and holes cut to admit the light. This is said to have answered a very good purpose.

Mr. Seymour Brainard, father of Ephraim Brainard, now residing in the village of Attica, came to this town in 1811, and located about two miles east of the village; he purchased of a man named Burbank. In 1820 he erected a mill on the creek, in the town of Alexander, a short distance from Attica. When he commenced his mill, wheat was worth $2.50 per bushel, and when it was finished it was worth only three shillings. He had at one time twenty acres of winter wheat, which in the spring appeared to be killed, in consequence of which he sowed it again and had at harvest 800 bushels. Mr. Brainard came originally from Connecticut, but had resided in Oneida County for seven years previous to his coming to Attica. He came with an ox team, and up to a very recent date, the hubs of the cart which he brought from Connecticut were still in existence and in a tolerable state of preservation, considering their long exposure to the weather. Mr. B. erected a distillery at an early day and purchased cattle, which he fattened with his "still-slops," and afterwards sold them for the New York market. He fattened ninety-six head in one year. He afterwards purchased 110 head of calves, which he wintered at his distillery. He sold pork at Rochester for $2.50 per hundred.

Mr. Owen Cotton, whose name has already been mentioned in connection with the first mill, settled in the town in 1817, and now resides in the village. He erected a mill for Wilder and Johnson, the stones and machinery of which were all constructed in the town. According to the contract the mill was to grind six bushels an hour. In 1828 he erected a mill three miles above Attica, and continued to own and operate it until 1857. It is still in operation. In 1820 he built an oil mill, and the next year put in a run of stones brought from Utica. In 1829 he enlarged the mill and put in a run of burr stones. The oil mill was kept in operation for thirty years. The Wilders, who have already been mentioned, were prominent men of the town and of the County for many years. John was Sheriff of Genesee County, and in the War of 1812 was first sergeant of a company of Grenadiers, and was taken prisoner at the battle of Queenstown. Joseph was an early magistrate of Attica and held several military offices, that of Colonel being the highest.

The first birth in the town was that of Harriet Phelps, July 25, 1803; the first marriage was that of Stephen Crow and Lucy Elwell, and the first death that of Thomas Mather, in the winter of 1803. Sophia Williams taught the first school, in 1807, and Daniel Stanton kept the first inn, in 1809.

The first religious services were held September 21, 1809, by Rev. Royal Phelps, at which time the first church (Cong.) was organized, with five members.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,367, and its area 22,500 acres.

There are twelve school districts in the town, employing fifteen teachers. The number of children of school age is 820; the number attending school, 656; the average attendance, 277, and the amount expended for school purposes, for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $4,753.07.

BENNINGTON was formed from Sheldon, March 6, 1818. It is the north-west corner town of the County. The surface is a rolling upland, broken by the ravines of small streams. The central part is drained by Cayuga Creek and its branches, and the north part by Murder Creek. Tonawanda Creek flows through the south-east corner. The soil is a clayey, sandy and gravelly loam. Coal has been found in small quantities in several places, and an inflammable gas exudes from the ground in some places, in sufficient quantities to light a village of several hundred dwellings, if properly utilized.

Bennington Center, (Bennington p. o.) located a little north of the center of the town, contains three churches, a hotel, two dry goods stores, several mechanic shops and about forty dwellings.

Cowlesville, (p. v.) situated on Cayuga Creek, in the north-east part of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, an iron foundry, a tannery, three dry goods stores, several mechanic shops and about 300 inhabitants.

Folsomdale (p. o.) is a hamlet about two miles south-east of Cowlesville, contains an excellent water-power and is rapidly increasing in business and population.

East Bennington, in the north-east part of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, several mechanic shops and about twenty-five houses.

The first settlement was made in the north-east part of the town in 1802, by John Tolles, Jacob Wright and William Barber, from Vermont. Each of these settlers erected a small log house and kept bachelor's hall for several months previous to removing their families, in the meantime clearing a small piece of land and sowing it with wheat. Further settlements were soon after made in the south part by the Hoard brothers, and by Chauncey, Justin and George Loomis, Ezra Ludden, George Hoskins, John, Asa and Abijah Jones, the descendants of whom still form a respectable portion of the inhabitants. Pelatiah Case, Aaron and Adolphus Clapp, Joseph Farnum and Nathan Clapp, were among the early settlers. In 1807 Chauncey Loomis purchased several thousand acres at one dollar per acre. He erected a saw mill about the same time. Several log houses were erected and the settlement increased more rapidly than it had previously. Mr. Loomis erected the first barn in the town, and invited all the settlers within a circuit of ten miles to assist in raising it. In 1808 and 1809, George Hoskins, Jacob Rockwell and Joseph and Walter Burnham settled in the town. It is said by some that Jacob Wright built the first framed barn on the Holland Purchase, in 1805. In 1807, Messrs. Hoard erected a saw mill in the south part of the town, and another was erected at the center, the same year, by Judge Loomis. A saw mill and grist mill were erected at Cowlesville, by Quartus Clapp, in 1820; and in 1823 mills were erected at Folsomdale by Joseph Fitch. George Loomis was the first Supervisor of the town, only forty-three votes being cast at the first meeting. John Jones erected the first tannery and shoe shop in the town. Chauncey Loomis cut the road from Bennington, through the Indian Reservation, to the Willink road, coming out half a mile above Red Jacket's wigwam. He was in the employ of the Holland Company. The first team that passed over the road was a wagon drawn by three yoke of oxen, going to Buffalo for salt; it was three days making the journey. Lester Brace, Joseph Farnum and Levi Street were the teamsters. The breaking out of the war in 1812 checked the progress of the settlement for a time. The road from Bennington to Sheldon was cut in 1807, and was continued north to the south Buffalo road the next year. In 1808 a road was opened from Bennington to Attica.

The first marriage was that of Aaron Whitney and Rachel Truesdale, in 1807. The first death that of a child of William Barber in 1803. The first death of an adult was that of Amos Tolles, in 1803, at the age of 53. The first school was taught by Rachel Truesdale, in 1807. The first inn was kept by Joseph Farnum, and the first store by Chauncey Loomis. The first grist mill was built by Quartus Clapp, at Cowlesville. The first religious services were conducted by Peter B. Root, in 1805. The first church (Methodist) was organized in 1807. The Baptist Church was the second one organized upon the Purchase. Mrs. Loomis made a donation to the Church of one thousand dollars. Elder Herrick was the first settled minister in the town. The first physician in the town was Salmon King; the next was Ira Cross. The first birth was that of a daughter of Adolphus Clapp.

Among the remarkable afflictions to be related is that of the Lost Boy. A son of David Tolles, about eight or nine years old, was sent to keep the cattle from a small patch of oats that had been sowed, but the field was unfenced. Just before sun-set he drove the cattle into the woods and was never seen afterwards. Search was immediately commenced by a few of the neighbors, and the next day the alarm was spread throughout the whole region. The settlers came in from all parts, organized and searched in all directions. The third day a party of Indians joined in the search. The settlers furnished provisions to the extent of their means. Mr. Ellicott sent a load from Batavia, and Jabez Warren, who had provisions stored at Roswell Turner's, in Sheldon, ordered them dealt out in rations. The search was continued by the whites a whole week, and by the Indians a longer time, but the fate of the lost boy was never known. His tracks were found the second day of the search, and the third day another party found where he had gathered hemlock boughs and slept. On the fourth day a party found where he had been into a creek and washed some roots. His tracks upon the rocks were so recent that the water was not dried off. This was the last trace of him.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,445, and its area 33,900 acres.

The number of school districts is sixteen, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 861; number attending school, 573; average attendance, 245, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending September 30, 1869, was $3,299.95.

CASTILE was formed from Perry, Feb. 27, 1821. It is the central town upon the east border of the County. The surface is a rolling and terraced upland, broken by the deep valleys of the streams. Genesee River, forming a portion of the east boundary, is bordered by steep banks from 300 to 350 feet in high. In some places the perpendicular ledges are 200 feet high. The small tributaries of the river have worn deep lateral channels in these banks. The valley of Silver Lake occupies a wide and shallow basin in the north part of the town. Its outlet is towards the north. Wolf Creek rises in a swamp, near the head of the lake, and flows south-easterly into the Genesee River. A wide level valley, bordered by low terraces, extends from the east shore of the lake, and opens into the val-by of Wolf Creek at Castile village. The soil is a gravelly and clayey loam.

Castile, (p. v.) situated on Wolf Creek, in the south-west part of the town, contains five churches, viz., Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Christian; a hotel, two dry goods stores, two hardware stores, a jewelry shop, a harness shop, a hat and cap store, a drug store, three shoe stores, a foundry, a grist mill, a saw mill, a sash and blind factory, a cheese factory, a union school, several mechanic shops and about 900 inhabitants. There is also a water cure for females located in the village.

Castile Station is about half a mile from the village, on the Buffalo Division of the Erie Railway, and contains two hotels, a store and about a dozen dwellings.

St. Helena, on Genesee River, in the south-east part of the town, contains a cider mill, a blacksmith shop, a school house and about a dozen dwellings. There are two religious societies, viz., Protestant Methodist and Episcopal Methodist, but no house of worship. They occupy the school house.

The first settlement of this town was commenced about 1808 or '9, by Daniel McKay, of Caledonia, who erected a saw mill on Wolf Creek, in the south-east part of the town.

About the same time Robert Whaley removed from Caledonia and settled on the "Allegany Road," a short distance from the center of the town, there being no other settler on the road between him and Leicester, a distance of thirteen miles. Mr. Whaley had charge of the saw mill, which was about half a mile from the mouth of the creek, on the Cotringer Tract. This mill was stocked with pine logs, purchased from Mary Jemison, and the lumber was transported to the high river bank, where was a slide by which it was conveyed to the river, thence floated down to the older settlements where it was needed. Mr. Whaley opened a public house at his place of residence, on the Allegany Road, and for many years the Whaley Stand was widely known and patronized by the settlers in this and other parts of the country further west.

In 1816 a severe calamity occurred at this pioneer tavern. Mr. Whaley had removed to his mill, and rented the house to a Mr. Eldredge. Several men from LeRoy put up here for the night, when the house took fire and two of the men perished in the flames. The house was rebuilt, and in 1817 Mr. Whaley returned to it, where he died soon after. His widow kept the house for some years afterwards.

The first settlers at the village were Ziba Hurd and Jonathan Gilbert, from Vermont, in 1816. Among the early settlers were

Aaron Pond, James Thompson, Clark Sanford, Dow J. Clute, Charles Tallman, Freeman Sanford, William Tripp, Ebenezer Seymour and Sylvester Derby. A settlement was commenced at an early day in the west part of the town, near the lake, called the "Tallman Settlement."

The first birth in the town was that of Jane McRay, in 1813; the first death that of Laura Wilcox, in 1815. The first school was taught by Anna Bennett, from Vermont, in 1816. The first grist mill was built by John Card and Sylvester Lathrop, on lot 40, in 1820. The first store was kept by Lemuel Eldredge and M. E. Frost, in 1815. In 1821 a post office was established, and Mr. Hurd appointed post master.

The first religious services were held near the south end of Silver Lake, in 1816, by Elder Benjamin Luther, of the Baptist denomination. A "Christian Society" was organized in 1819; a Presbyterian Society in 1824, also a Methodist Society the same year. The Baptist Society was organized in 1835.

This town has the honor of being among the pioneers in the cause of temperance. An organization was formed as early as 1825, by the ladies of Castile.

The water power furnished by Wolf Creek, and the abundance of fine timber in the vicinity, gave great activity to the lumber business for many years. At one period not less than fourteen saw mills were located on this creek.

When Mr. Clark Sanford settled in this town, in 1816, Mary Jemison, the white woman, was living near the Genesee River, a mile below St. Helena. Castile village at that time contained about half a dozen framed houses and a few log ones. Dr. Childs kept a small store in the village, and bears, wolves and rattlesnakes, held almost undisputed sway in the surrounding country. Ziba Hurd was the first supervisor of the town, and Jonathan Gilbert, James Waterhouse, Ebenezer Seymour and Clark Sanford, were the first justices of the peace. Mr. Sanford held the office for twenty years. In 1817 a land slide occurred, about twenty-five acres in this town sliding into Genesee River, damming it up and causing a permanent change in its course.

During the summer of 1855 it was reported that an immense serpent had been seen in Silver Lake. The story was so well authenticated that thousands of visitors flocked from all parts of the country to see his snakeship. A burlesque account of the capture of the serpent, which appeared in the Buffalo Express, raised the excitement to the highest pitch, and soon after the whole humbug collapsed.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,081, and its area 22,800 acres.

The last report shows that the number of children of school age was 641; number attending school 555; average attendance 307.

COVINGTON, named from General Leonard Covington, was formed from LeRoy (Genesee Co.) and Perry, January 31, 1837. A part was annexed to York (Livingston Co.) in 1823. It is the north-east corner town of the County. The surface is a moderately hilly upland, broken by the deep ravines of the streams. Oatka Creek flows through the north-west corner, and receives as tributary, Pearl Creek, which flows north-west, through near the center. Oatka Creek is bordered by fine fertile alluvial flats. The soil of the uplands is generally a gravelly loam.

Covington Center (Covington p. o.) contains a store, a town hall, a cooper shop, a blacksmith shop and about a dozen houses.

Pearl Creek, (p. v.) in the north-west part, contains a grocery, two grist mills, a saw mill, a blacksmith shop and about a dozen dwellings.

Peoria, (p. v.) in the east part, contains a hotel, a store, a blacksmith shop and cultivator factory, a wagon shop and about fifteen dwellings.

La Grange, (p. v.) on the south border of the town, partly in Perry, contains a Baptist church, a store, a wagon shop, two blacksmith shops and about twenty dwellings.

The first settlement was made in this town in 1807, in the west part, by Jairus Cruttenden, William Miller and John and William Sprague, all of whom were from New England.

The first child born in the town was Viola White, daughter of Dr. Daniel White, in 1809. The first marriage was that of Calvin Davis and Sylvia Beardsley, in 1814; and the first death that of Mrs. Easty, during the same year. The first inn was kept by William Miller, in 1813, and the first store by Daniel Paleom, in 1812. The first grist mill was built by — Spaulding, in 1810, and the first saw mill by Sprague & Spaulding, in 1812.

The first religious services were held at the house of David Norris, in 1814, by Rev. Mark Norris, from Vermont.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,233, and its area 15,840 acres.

There are nine school districts, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 385; the number attending school, 312; the average attendance, 175, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $2,570.27.

EAGLE was formed from Pike, January 21, 1833. In 1866 the three eastern tiers of lots in China, (now Arcade,) numbered from one to twenty-four, were annexed, and in 1869, by vote of the Supervisors of the County, this portion was re-annexed to Arcade. It occupies a central position upon the south border of the County. The surface is a hilly upland, broken by the deep rayines of the streams. Wiscoy Creek and its tributaries form the principal drainage of all the town except the north-west part, where Catteraugus Creek and Spring Brook flow in a south-westerly direction. Cold Creek rises in the south-east part of the town. Most of the hills bordering upon the streams are very steep, and their summits are from 400 to 700 feet above the valleys. Eagle Lake is a small body of water in the south part, having no visible outlet. The soil is a clayey and gravelly loam.

Eagle Village, (p. v.) situated in the south-west part of the town, contains a Methodist church, a hotel, three dry good-stores, a grocery, a saw mill, a grist mill, three blacksmith shops, two wagon shops, a shoe shop, a harness shop, a cheese factory, using the milk of 400 cows, and about thirty dwellings.

Eagle is a post office.

The first settlement was made in 1808, on lot 8, by Silas and William Hodges, from Cayuga County.

The first birth in the town was that of Alanson Hodges, son of Silas Hodges, in 1802. The first inn was kept by Dan Beach; the first store by Elijah Hyde, and the first saw mill was erected by Amos Huntley.

This town embraces Township No. Seven, of the Second Range of the Holland Purchase. The early settlers endured all the hardships incident to the region, struggling with want and poverty, but like others, in a few years they obtained a competency.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,211, and its area 31,300 acres.

According to the last report, the number of children of school age in the town was 623; the number attending school, 551; the average attendance, 263.

GAINESVILLE, named from Gen. E. P. Gaines, was formed from Warsaw, as Hebe, February 25, 1814. Its name was changed April 17, 1816. It is an interior town, lying south-east of the center of the County. The surface is an upland, slightly undulating and broken by the valleys of the streams. Outka Creek flows through the north-east part, and East Co through the south-west. The soil upon the hills is a thin dark plain, underlaid by hardpan, and in the valleys a fertile gravelly loam. Good building stone is quarried in the north part of the town.

Gainesville, (p. v.) situated on East Coy Creek, near the center of the town, contains four churches, viz., Methodist, Congregational, Free Methodist and Universalist; a female seminary, a hotel, two stores, a tannery, a grist mill, a saw mill, a cheese factory, several mechanic shops and about 250 inhabitants. The Female Seminary was established in 1855, by Misses Hardy and Eldridge, and other citizens of the place. The school was established on the plan of Mount Holyoke Seminary, in Massachusetts. The buildings will accommodate 100 boarders and 150 day pupils.

East Gainesville, (p. v.) on Wolf Creek, in the east part of the town, is a station on the Buffalo & Erie Railway, and contains two stores, a hotel, a cheese factory and about 20 houses.

Gainesville Center and Newburgh are hamlets.

William, Richard and Charles Bristol, were the first settlers of this town. They came from Columbia Co. Elnathan George came from Vermont about the same time. There were no roads at the time of the first settlement, the settlers being compelled to cut their own roads. These men came in and located in 1805. John Patterson and James Cravath, with others, settled in 1806. Hosea Sheffield was one of the early settlers, having come from Tioga County in 1808. Alfred Wing settled at East Gainesville in 1812; he came from Vermont and is now living.

Mr. William Bristol assisted Wm. Peacock, a surveyor of the Holland Company, in surveying the township. He also cut the north and south center road through the town, settled at the creek and lived there the remainder of his life. He was appointed justice of the peace in 1809, before Gainesville was set off from Warsaw. He served in the War of 1812, as Lieutenant of Captain Isaac Wilson's company of cavalry. He was elected the first supervisor of the town, in 1814, and held the office for several years. He was a member of the Assembly in 1823. William Bristol, son of the first settler, now residing in Warsaw, lived upon the old homestead until 1868. Benjamin F., another son, still resides in Gainesville.

Elisha Brainard moved to Gainesville from Madison County, in 1816.

Willard Thayer removed from Massachusetts to Gainesville in 1807, and resided there until his death. He was several times elected supervisor, and threetimes justice of the peace. He was greatly averse to litigation, and often used his influence to bring about a settlement without a trial of the case. He was the father of L. W. Thayer, of Warsaw.

The population in 1865 was 1,635, and the area 22,500 acres.

The number of children of school age, according to the last report, was 492; the number attending school 419, and the average attendance for the year ending September 30, 1869, was 204.

GENESEE FALLS was formed from Pike and Portage, (Livingston Co.,) April 1, 1846. It lies upon the Genesee River, in the south-east corner of the County. A rocky bluff, from 100 to 300 feet in height, and nearly perpendicular, borders the river, and from its summit the surface spreads out into an undulating upland. The celebrated Portage Falls, on the Genesee River, are upon the border of this town. The soil is a sandy and clayey loam.

Portageville, (p. o.) situated on the Genesee River, contains five churches, viz., Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Universalist and Roman Catholic; two hotels, two saw mills, several stores and mechanic shops, and about 500 inhabitants. The village is about one mile from the station on the Erie Railway, upon the east side of the river. The railroad bridge at this place, said to be the largest wooden bridge in the world, is 800 feet in length, 234 feet high, and contains 1,600,000 feet of timber, 106,280 pounds of iron, and cost $175,000. The Falls and the scenery near this place attract many visitors, and the improvements already made and in contemplation will make it one of the most delightful resorts for summer tourists. A large hotel at the station will furnish accommodations for summer visitors.

The first settlements were made on the river, above Portageville, in 1804, by John, Samuel and Seth Fields. Nathan and Joseph Dixon, Joseph and Justice Bailey, and Sebetia Ward settled previous to 1807.

The first death was that of Sophia Smith, in 1817; the first school was taught by Maria Bellinger in 1809; and the first inn was kept by Lewis Wood, at Portageville, in 1824.

A tract of 500 acres, embracing the village plat of Portageville, was purchased, soon after the lands in that vicinity were opened for sale, by a company consisting of Thomas Mumford, John McKay, Thomas H. Hubbard and Silas Smith. Mr. Smith was the only one of the company who resided here, and he erected a saw mill in 1822. A bridge was soon after erected by the proprietors. After the erection of a public house by Mr. Wood, the Falls and the wild and picturesque scenery began to attract the attention of visitors. Lucius Foot settled there, engaged in the practice of law, and was the local agent of the proprietors. He died in 1826, and was succeeded in the local agency by Dr. Elisha D. Moses. Dr. Dutton erected a public house there in 1824. Among the other early settlers in the village were Henry O. Brown, Lyman Church, Joshua Abbott, Benonia, Bezaleel and David Shaw, Robert Hines and Charles Bristol. In 1826 or '7, Col. George Williams purchased the interest of one of the proprietors, and subsequently purchased all that remained unsold.

The Genesee Valley Canal, and the Buffalo Branch of the Erie Railway, both cross the river at this place, and have added greatly to its business and growth.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,670, and the area 1,500 acres.

The number of children of school age is 275; the number attending school 236, and the average attendance for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was 118.

JAVA was formed from China, now Arcade, April 20, 1832. It lies upon the west border of the County, south of the center. The surface is an elevated region, broken by hills and the deep valleys of the streams. The highest summits are from 400 to 600 feet above the valleys, and from 1,000 to 1,200 feet above Lake Erie. Buffalo Creek flows through the west part and receives a large number of tributaries. Cattaraugus Creek flows through the south-east part. Cattaraugus Lake is a small sheet of water in the south-east part, nearly surrounded by steep hills. It forms one of the sources of Cattaraugus Creek. The soil upon the hills is a thin dark loam, underlaid by hardpan, and in the valleys a gravelly loam. A quarry of fine building stone is situated about a mile east of Java Village.

Java Village, (p. v.) on Buffalo Creek, in the north-west part of the town, contains two stores, a grist mill, two tanneries, two carriage shops and about 25 dwellings.

North Java, (p. v.) in the north-east part, contains a Congregational church, a hotel, two stores, a furniture and undertaking establishment, several mechanic shops and about 25 dwellings.

Carrier's Corners, (Java p. o.) in the south-west part, contains a hotel, a store, a cheese factory and about a dozen dwellings.

East Java, (p. v.) in the south-east part, contains a church, two hotels, two stores and about 20 dwellings.

Java Center is a hamlet.

This town, comprising Townships Three and Four of the Holland Purchase, was first settled by William Richardson and Timothy Kirby, from Massachusetts. They located on lot 32, in the north-west part of the town. In 1812 and 1814, Charles Richardson and Daniel H. Worcester settled at Java Village, and Charles Fox at Currier's Corners.

The first mill was erected at Java Village in 1816, by Daniel H. Worcester; the first inn was kept at Currier's Corners in 1818, by Charles Fox, and the first store by Mr. Comstock in 1820, at Java Village.

Henry Woolsey came from Columbia County in 1816, and settled on the farm now owned and occupied by him. He is now in the 78th year of his age, is well and hearty and does his own work.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,142, and the area 29,750 acres.

The number of children of school age is 657; the number attending school, 568, and the average attendance for the year ending September 30, 1869, was 273.

MIDDLEBURY was formed from Warsaw, March 20, 1812. It lies on the north border of the County, east of the center. The surface is a rolling upland, broken by the deep valleys of the streams. Oatka Creek flows through the south-east corner, and Little Tonawanda Creek through the west part. A deep ravine extends east and west, through the center of the town, forming a natural pass between the valleys of these two streams. The hills bordering upon Oatka Creek are from 400 to 600 feet high, and quite steep. The soil generally is a clayey and gravelly loam, well adapted to all kinds of grain and fruits common to this latitude. Near the middle of the south half of the town is the highest land in the town, called by the pioneers Gaujen Hill. South of this hill is a tamarac swamp, containing about one hundred acres. Red Brook is a small stream, rising in this swamp and flowing into the Oatka.

Wyoming, (p. v.) situated in the east part of the town, contains three churches, viz., Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian; an academy, two hotels, three stores, three groceries, two flouring mills, a saw mill, a barrel manufactory, several mechanic shops of various kinds, and about 400 inhabitants.

The Middlebury Academy was incorporated in 1819. The building was erected in 1817, through the liberality of the citizens, who appreciated the value of an education and were willing to contribute liberally to erect an elegant brick edifice, where their children might have the advantage of a thorough course of instruction, while the contributors were living in log houses, some of which had only one room. The value of the building, apparatus, &c., is at present estimated at $11,000; it employs four teachers and has about one hundred scholars. It has always maintained a high rank among the institutions of this part of the State.

West Middlebury, (Dale p. o.) situated in the west part, is a station on the Buffalo Division of the Erie Railway, and contains a F. W. Baptist church, two stores, two saw mills, a barrel manufactory, several mechanic shops and about 260 inhabitants.

There are two cheese factories in the town, one at the west line and the other in the south corner of the town.

The first settlement of this town was made in 1802, by Jabez Warren, at what is called Wright's Corners. Here he erected a log house and made a small improvement, raising a crop the next season, the first in that region. The other settlers who came in about the same time were Jonas Sellick, Reuben Chamberlain, Frederick Gilbert, Sterling Stearns and Israel M. Dewey. Most of these settlers were from Vermont. They cut their own road from LeRoy to Middlebury. Stearns was a Revolutionary soldier, volunteered in the War of 1812, and was killed at the Battle of Queenstown. Mr. Warren sold out in 1804 and went to Aurora.

The first store was kept by Edwin Putnam in 1810, near Wright's Corners; the first grist mill was built by Silas Newell, in 1813, near Wyoming village, and the first saw mill by A. Worden, at West Middlebury, in 1809. Amzi Wright kept the first inn, at Wright's Corners, in 1806.

Among the early settlers and those who took up land in this town were Thomas Cahoon, James Fay, Elijah Cutting, David Torry, Job Cowen, John Roberts, Zophar Evans, Daniel Vanorman, Jonathan Curtis, Samuel Tolles, Abner Bacon, Asahel Wright, Gideon Bardock, Samuel Ewell, Jonathan Whitney, Reuben and Elihu Hall, and Edmund Curtis.

Mr. Amzi Wright came to Middlebury in 1804. He had previously spent a year in Batavia, attending the first town meeting on the Purchase. He purchased of Sterling Stearns the farm now occupied by his son Allen, and in 1806 opened a tavern. This tavern is described as a log house, containing one room. In one corner was the kitchen, in another the buttery, the bar occupied the third, and the bed the fourth. On the 4th of July 1815, about three hundred persons sat down to a dinner in the grove, a little north-west of the brick house now owned by Heman Humphrey.

In 1803 James Sellick settled on the farm now owned by Chauncey L. Hayden. Henry and Samuel Ewell came in 1803, and chopped and cleared ten acres of land; this is said by some to be the first cleared in the town, except a few acres supposed to have been cleared by the Indians. This was included in the lot taken up by Sylvanus Hewes, and now owned by James A. Ewell. It was known by the early settlers as the "Old Field," and is now grown up to trees, from one foot to twenty inches in diameter. The Ewells purchased a barrel of pork and a half bushel of potatoes, at Bloomfield, on their way to this town. They built a rude cabin, in which they lived while clearing their land. The woods were infested with wolves and bears. The men seldom left their work in the day time, but in the evening went after their bread, which was baked by Mrs. Sellick. On one occasion, Henry Ewell, starting for home with his bread, heard the wolves howling so fiercely that he took Mr. Sellick's cow, with her heavy bell, for company, thinking that would be some protection against the ravenous beasts. As the wolves approached and their howls became fiercer, he stepped up to the cow and gave the bell a violent shaking, which served for a time to alarm the wolves, but soon they gathered again. By frequently repeating this operation he arrived home in safety. After clearing their land and sowing their wheat, they returned to Massachusetts on foot, a distance of 300 miles, performing the journey in ten days. They spent the winter in Massachusetts, married and returned to their farm in the spring of 1804. Their wheat field was on the road north of Babbit's Corners, on the east side of the road, at a place now occupied by a small orchard. Money was very scarce, and nearly all trade was carried on by exchanging produce. A gentleman of comparative wealth states that he found it difficult to borrow five shillings for a few days, and being called on to pay, was still more troubled, and could pay it only by doing a hard day's work for one shilling, and another one for a peck of salt, which he sold for four shillings. Their wheat had to be conveyed to Albany by teams, and subsequently to Rochester, where it would not bring more than two or three shillings a bushel.

The next clearing after that of the Ewell's was made upon the farm now owned by Thos. Tabor, and formerly owned for many years by Martin Choate. Mr. Cobb cleared a few acres east of where the barns now stand, lived there about a year, and died of an epidemic. The burial was the common one at this time. A coffin made of rough boards inclosed the body, a prayer was offered by a neighbor, and the hearse was a sled drawn by oxen. The procession consisted of about a dozen persons, who followed on foot to the place of burial.

In 1808 James Quail, father of Mrs. Jairus Miller, settled on the west part of the farm now owned by Jairus Miller, half a mile south of the center of the town. A Mr. Calkins settled about the same time, south of the center. He chopped the timber from a piece of land, and soon after sold out to Gideon Brownell, who lived there many years. In 1810 Sylvanus Howes came here from Massachusetts, purchased a quarter section of land, east of the center, and built a house near where James A. Ewell now lives. Dr. Seaver settled in 1810, near Wright's Corners, where he now resides.

Deacon Eliphalet Owen came to Middlebury in 1806, and located on Oatka Creek, where his sons now reside, in the south part of the town, when the whole region was an unbroken wilderness. Before cutting the first tree, he kneeled at its root and committed himself and his interests to God in prayer. He interested himself in establishing a Baptist church, and became an efficient officer of the same, making it a principle to attend all its meetings. He was never known to remain at home upon the Sabbath, except in one instance. He was a liberal supporter of his own church, and was largely interested in missionary, educational and other charitable objects. He was one of the founders of Middlebury Academy, and one of its Trustees during his life. As the fruits of a faithful religious life, he witnessed the conversion of upwards of thirty persons under his own roof, embracing his family and persons in his employ. He was born in Windham, Conn., May 1784, and died in 1856, in the 72d year of his age.

Moses Gleason, the father-in-law of James Quail, came in about the same time, and settled near him. In 1812 Moses Moon and his wife settled on the farm, where he recently died, at the age of 90 years. His widow still lives with her son Sanford on the same farm. Mr. Halliday took up the farm where Jairus Miller now lives, the same upon which his father, Stephen Miller, moved in 1814. Aaron Miller bought the farm, consisting of 100 acres, of his brother-in-law, Sylvanus Howes, erected a log house and removed his family into it in the spring of 1813.

The first settlement at the village of Wyoming was made in 1809, by Silas Newell, from Hoosick, Rensselaer County. He came by the way of East Bethany, aided by marked trees. The place was called Newell's Settlement for several years. It received its present name in 1829, through the efforts of Hon. John B. Skinner.

During the War of 1812, the people were frequently alarmed by rumors of Indians coming to lay waste the country. They had burned Buffalo and devastated several places in the vicinity. Some of the inhabitants fled to the east, where they remained until they thought the danger was over. On one occasion the alarm was spread that the Indians were coming. Some left their houses and went into the dense forest, one man moved his pork barrel into the woods, and drove his cattle into a swamp. Most of the inhabitants concealed themselves in some place; some of them fled to the gulf through which Red Brook flows, thinking that neither Indians nor white men would ever think of looking in such a rugged, dark and dismal place for any one. Mrs. Miller relates that she often heard her grandmother, Mrs. Moses Gleason, tell of that terrible night when they all fled. She alone remained, and after covering the fire, not daring to let it burn, she sat alone through the whole night. Aaron Miller and his family remained in their house. Mrs. Miller said she would not run until she saw some danger. When peace was declared, the inhabitants returned to their homes.

Among the most prominent settlers in the north-west part of the town were Ebenezer Willson, and his sons, Ira, Isaac, Amos, Heman and Orsamus, all of whom lived on farms in the vicinity. Ebenezer Willson lived on the farm now occupied by John Quail. Several families of Smiths lived near the Willsons, all of whom are gone except Ira Willson, who now resides where his father formerly lived. Leonard Smith now lives on the farm formerly occupied by his father, Enoch Smith.

The Ewell family were formerly very numerous, eight brothers and sisters living on separate farms adjoining each other. Some of their descendants now occupy the same farms. Only one of the brothers remains. The Miller family was also quite extensive, and some of their children are now occupying the farms upon which their parents settled. Of six brothers, Aaron, Alanson, Hezekiah, Jairus, Hiram and Orlando Miller, and their children, married and settled in the town, there are twenty-four families.

Among the oldest residents of the south-east part of the town, who have numerous descendants settled around them, are Daniel and Abijah Bradley, Levi and Spencer Curtis, Jacob, Abram, Aura and Seneca Cronkite. Moses Rowe kept a tavern for several years, on the east side of the creek, about a mile from Wyoming.

In 1817 there were seven distilleries in the town, and not a single church edifice. One of these distilleries was near the site of the North West Baptist church, one on L. DeWolf's farm, one on E. K. Wright's farm, one on Moses Moon's, one near Ethel C. Sherman's, one near Mr. Look's, and one near the Warsaw line. It will be remembered that the price of grain was very low, and the cost of transporting it to a market very great. By distilling, the bulk was greatly diminished, and consequently the cost of transportation, but the moral influence was evil and only evil. Now there is not one distillery in the town, but there are five flourishing churches, an academy, and many schools to which all have access.

Three persons in this town have lived to exceed the age of 100 years. Mrs. Gould, mother of Joseph Gould, one of the early settlers, died about thirty years ago, at the age of 103 years. Joseph Gould died about twenty years ago. Roswell Gould, another son, died about a year ago, in Warsaw. During his life he held several offices of trust in the town and County. Mrs. Peck, another centenarian, died in March, 1863, aged 100 years and three months. She was the mother of Jacob and Elias Howard, who now reside near Dale. They have a large number of descendants residing in this town and elsewhere.

Another centenarian was Mrs. Sarah Peterson, who was born August 23, 1763, in Rhode Island. Her maiden name was Brightman. She married Jonathan Peterson, and, about 1791, removed to New Haven, Addison Co., Vt. Here they endured the hardships and privations of pioneer life, and brought up a family of six children. In 1814 they sold out and removed to Covington, whither their children had previously gone. Mr. Peterson died in 1828, and Mrs. Peterson lived with her children many years, and afterwards with her grandchildren until her death. When she was 100 years old, her friends made her a birthday visit, at the house of W. W. Miller, whose wife was her granddaughter. There were present about thirty of her descendants, with a few old friends. Seated at the table in a row were five generations. At the head was Mrs. Peterson, aged 100 years, then her daughter and others, until the fifth generation was represented by a girl of ten years. Up to this time, and until about two days before her death, Mrs. P. was able to walk about the house, make her bed, knit and converse intelligently with all. She was always glad to see her friends, or feel them, as she was blind for about twenty years before her death. She died December 9, 1865, aged 102 years and three months. Many of her descendants are still living in this town.

We have already noticed the advent to this town of Henry and Samuel Ewell. Their father and several brothers afterwards settled in the town. James Ewell, Sen., came from Hampshire Co., Mass., in June, 1816. He came with an ox team and a wagon made of two ox carts. They were three weeks on the road. Peleg Ewell came in 1806, and settled on the farm now occupied by Cornelius Ewell. James Ewell, Jr., came in 1808, and settled on the farm now occupied by his son Hiram. He remained here until his death. Eli Ewell came in 1814, and settled on the farm now occupied by his grand-son, Albertice. Deborah Ewell, sister of the preceding, married Jonathan Perry, one of the early settlers, and lived on the "Flats," about one and a half miles south of Wyoming. John Ewell came in 1813; he is the only one of the brothers still living. In 1819 he married Esther Walker. They are now living on the farm cleared and improved by himself.

Stephen Miller came to this town in 1814, from Massachusetts. He was a soldier of the Revolution, enlisted under General Gates, was in the battle at Saratoga, and present at the surrender of Gen. Burgoyne. He came to this town with a team consisting of two span of horses attached to a sleigh. His family consisted of a wife and seven children. They were two weeks on the road. After years of industry and economy, he acquired a competency, and died of paralysis, Jan. 13, 1834. His widow died just twenty-one years afterwards. They had twelve children, all of whom married and raised families.

Aaron Miller, a son of the preceding, came to Middlebury in 1812, and purchased one hundred acres of his brother-in-law, Sylvanus Howes. The night previous to his death, his house took fire, in a room directly over the one in which he was lying. The fire was already dropping upon the bed when he was removed on a bed by four persons, to the house of his brother, Jairus Miller, where he died the next morning. He was the father of John S. Miller, who now occupies a part of the farm originally purchased by his father. Alanson Miller, brother of Aaron, came into this town in 1813 or 1814, and settled on the farm now owned by his heirs, where he remained until his death. Hezekiah and Jairus Miller, two other sons of Stephen Miller, are now living in this town, surrounded by some of their children, who are married and raising families.

The first frame house erected in the town was by George and John Paddock. The site was a short distance west of the Mansion House, in the village of Wyoming. The first birth of the town was that of Dexter, son of Henry Ewell. He now resides in Alden, Erie county. The second birth was that of Enos K. Wright. He now resides near Wright's Corners.

Artemas Shattuck, a citizen of the town, while chopping in the woods, some distance from his home, had his foot caught in the crack of a log that was partly split open. Here he hung for a long time, suspended by one foot and partially supported by one hand, unable to extricate himself. At length, despairing of receiving aid, he took his pocket knife and unjointed his ankle, thus freeing himself from the trap in which he was caught. With a crooked stick for a crutch he then started for the house. He was found about dark, carried home and had his leg amputated. He recovered and afterwards became a Baptist minister.

The population in 1865 was 1,724, and its area 22,440 acres.

The number of school districts in the town is 13, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 609; the number attending school is 544; the average attendance is 240, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending September 30th, 1869, was $2,736.03.

ORANGEVILLE was formed from Attica, February 14th, 1816. Wethersfield was taken off in 1823. It is an interior town, lying north-west of the center of the County. The surface is a rolling upland, broken by deep ravines. The principal streams draining the west part are Tonawanda Creek and its branches, and in the east, small branches of Oatka and East Coy Creeks. The summits of the highest hills are from 400 to 700 feet above the valleys. The soil is a gravelly and clayey loam, underlaid by hardpan. On lot No. 2, in the south-east part of the town, on the farm of Joshua Butler, is a mineral spring, containing iron, sulphate of lime and other minerals, and is similar to the Vermont Spring.

Orangeville, (p. v.) near the center of the town, contains two churches, viz: Baptist and Presbyterian, a store, a hotel, a tannery, a saw mill, a cheese factory and about a dozen dwellings.

Johnsonburgh, (p. v.) in the west part of the town, on Tonawanda Creek, is partly in the town of Sheldon, and contains two churches, viz: Methodist and Presbyterian; a grist mill, a saw mill, a map-roller factory, a hotel, several stores and mechanic shops, and about 100 inhabitants.

East Orangeville, (p. o.) in the east part of the town, is a hamlet.

Orangeville Cheese Factory was erected in 1863, it is owned by Hutchinson & Wilder, and uses the milk of 650 cows.

Orangeville Tannery was established in 1812.

The first settlement was made in 1805, by John Duncan, on lot 13, and Elisha Doty, from Cayuga County, on lot 12. The next year several additional settlers came in, among whom were Lemuel Chase, James Sayer, Seth and Adial Sherwood, Silas Merrifield and Asahel Ward.

Truman Lewis came from Oneida County and settled in Orangeville in 1807. On his way he passed through Warsaw, in the evening, in the middle of the highway, now Main street, and stopped and counted the children through the cracks of a house, which stood on the east side of the street. He came from Vernon on foot, and purchased a part of lot No. 28, upon which he settled several years before his marriage. He had a younger brother, named Jason, living with him. It was a year of great scarcity: They had plenty of meat and milk, but felt the need of bread. Mr. Truman started on horseback to see if he could buy some corn or wheat. Continuing his journey to a place on the Genesee River, near Mount Morris, he found a man who had a little wheat. He asked the man if he would sell a bushel for five dollars, and was told that he would not sell it for a bushel of dollars. His journey was continued to Caneadea, in Allegany County, where he found a squaw who had a little corn, a part of which he purchased and brought home on his horse. He had wheat on the ground, and as soon as it began to ripen, he reaped a few bundles, dried them around the fire in his log house, thrashed them, and sent his brother Jason on foot, five miles, to Varysburgh, to have it ground. There had been no wheat in the mill for several weeks, and he was obliged "to watch the old man at the hopper, the old woman at the bolt, and the pet lamb at both." He arrived at home at 9 o'clock in the evening, and had "one good square meal of short cake and butter" before sleeping. Mr. Lewis was in the army in the War of 1812, holding a commission as Ensign, from Governor Tompkins. He was called out just at the commencement of the harvest, and like others, was compelled to leave the women to secure the crops. He held several offices in the town and county, and was a member of the Assembly from Genesee County in 1834 and 1835.

Craig Goodwin came from Fitchburgh, Mass., and settled in the town in 1813. Harvey Merrill came from Oneida County in 1809, and has lived ever since on the farm where he now resides. He assisted in making the first road from Warsaw to this town. In 1810 he lived for two weeks on cow cabbage and salt. Ephraim Durfee moved from Johnstown, Fulton County, in 1810, and located on lot 34, where he now resides. William Buxton came from Belchertown, Mass., to Orangeville in 1811.

The first birth in the town was that of a son of Seth Sherwood, in 1807; the first marriage was that of Adial Sherwood and Miss Wood, in 1809; and the first death that of Mrs. James Sayer. The first schools were taught by Miss Corinna Lewis and Miss Mary McKnight, commencing May 1, 1811. Isaac Moore kept the first inn, in 1811, at the center, and Silas Hubbard the first store, in 1814, at the same place. Robert Hopkins erected the first saw mill, in 1810, and Levi Johnson the first grist mill, in 1817.

The first church (Presbyterian) was organized by Rev. John Alexander, July 11, 1812.

This town is extensively engaged in dairying, several cheese factories being located in different parts of the town.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,322, and the area 22,325 acres.

There are six school districts, employing the same number of teachers. The number of the school population is 276; the number attending school, 244; the average attendance, 108, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $1,389.68.

PERRY, named from Commodore O. H. Perry, was formed from Leicester, (Livingston Co.,) March 11, 1814. A part of Covington was taken off in 1817, and Castile in 1821. It lies upon the east border of the County, north of the center, and has a level or gently rolling surface. Its streams are small brooks and creeks, the chief of which are Little Beards Creek, in the north-east part, Beards Creek, in the east, and Silver Lake Inlet and Silver Lake Outlet in the south part. A small portion of Silver Lake lies upon the south border.

Perry, (p. v.) situated on the outlet of Silver Lake, contains five churches, a newspaper office, a bank, an academy, three hotels, a saw and planing mill, a sash and blind factory, a foundry and machine shop, three grist mills, a woolen factory, a tannery, several stores and mechanic shops, and about 1,000 inhabitants.

Silver Lake Mills, owned by Nobles, Tomlinson & Co., has four runs of stones and grinds thirty barrels daily, exclusive of custom grinding.

Cataract Mills contain three runs of stones, and Genesee Mills the same number, located in the east part of the village.

Silver Lake Cider Mill has a capacity for making one hundred barrels daily. The mill is run by water, and made 1500 barrels during the fall of 1869.

A Spoke and Ax-Helve Factory, on the outlet of Silver Lake, is carried on with a capital of $6,000.

A Hame Factory, on the same stream, is carried on with a capital of $8,000.

Perry Foundry, owned by Millspaugh & Wheeler, employs a capital of $10,000.

Perry Woolen Factory, owned by James Wylie, employs a capital of $20,000. It contains 216 spindles and five looms, manufacturing 16,000 yards annually.

The Tannery of G. C. Chapin employs a capital of $3,000.

These manufactories are situated on the outlet of Silver Lake, which affords a valuable water-power.

The Saw Mill of E. M. Read & Co. manufactures about 600,000 feet of lumber annually. Connected with the establishment are planing and matching machines, a manufactory of sash and blinds, mouldings and scroll sawing.

Perry Center, (p. v.) situated south-east of the center of the town, contains a Congregational church, a school, a store, a boot and shoe store, a harness shop, a carriage shop, two blacksmith shops and about forty dwellings.

This town was embraced in the Morris Reserve, and was a part of the tract deeded to Samuel Ogden, and known as the "Ogden Tract." It was surveyed in 1807 by William Shepherd, of Canandaigua, and soon after put into the market under the agency of John Greig. The first settler was Josiah Williams, from Vermont. In 1808 he located about half a mile east of Perry village, and opened an inn.

During the same year Samuel Gates settled near the Inlet, on the road leading from Perry village to South Warsaw. Mr. Gates was a soldier of the Revolution, was at the surrender of Burgoyne and other important engagements. Soon after the Revolution he located in the valley of the Mohawk, and resided at Canajoharie for several years, after which he became a boatman, transporting goods as far west as Seneca Lake, when there were none but Indian traders to supply. He died in 1813 and was buried in the cemetery of Perry village.

Amos Smith came from Sherburne, Chenango Co., in March, 1808, and settled three-fourths of a mile east of Perry Center. There was no grist mill within twenty miles. Rattlesnakes were numerous: several persons were bitten and afterwards cured by Tall Chief, of Mount Morris. Mr. Smith had an ox bitten by a rattlesnake and afterwards cured by Tall Chief, though it was so badly swollen that white people despaired of curing it. Mrs. John Olin, daughter of Amos Smith, from whom the above facts were received, once killed a rattlesnake, but in the encounter broke her toe.

The first barn raised in the town was that of Elisha Smith, in 1809. It was 30 by 40 feet, and required the aid of the women to raise it, as there were only eleven men whose services could be obtained.

Mr. Ichabod Miner relates that during the War of 1812, his father, Josiah Miner, and his two sons, lived for several weeks on bran-bread and woodchuck meat.

David Lacy came to Perry in 1819, from Columbus, Chenango County; and Elnathan Lacy moved from Manlius to Perry in 1817. Samuel Lacy, father of Elnathan, came at the same time. They purchased 100 acres of Matthew Lemon, where Alanson Lacy now lives. Elisha M. Smith settled near the Inlet, on the road leading through Perry Center, in 1810, and opened a tavern, putting up the first framed building in the town, the same year. Peter Beebee settled at the Center in 1812, and James Otis became a neighbor of Mr. Gates in 1811. Mr. Canfield settled in the town the same year, and Mr. Curtis soon after. They erected a saw mill on the outlet, on the site of the present village. John Hammersly settled in 1811, and commenced the erection of a saw and grist mill, and Mr. James Edgerly erected the first framed house in the town the same year. There were eleven families in the town at the close of the year 1811. The next year settlers came quite rapidly. In 1813 the mills of Canfield and Curtiss, with most of the land embraced in the village site, were purchased by Levi Benton. In 1817, William Wiles purchased the mills, and the same year Jonathan Childs and Benjamin Gardner purchased the Hammersly Mills. In 1827 Mr. Gardner built a large flouring mill and commenced manufacturing for the New York market. James C. Edgerly kept the first store, though Calvin P. Bailey and Samuel Hatch became the first permanent merchants, in 1817. In 1824 they erected an oil mill, and 1827 a grist mill. Among the other early settlers were Nathaniel Howard, Samuel Howard, Phicol M. Ward and Amos Otis.

The first death in the town was that of Nancy Williams, daughter of Josiah Williams, or according to some authority, the daughter of Mr. Clark. The first birth was that of a daughter of Samuel Gates. The first physician was Dr. Jabez Ward, who settled in 1813. James C. Edgerly was the first post master, the mail coming from Leicester, on horseback, once a week. Two school houses were erected in 1813; Ann Cutting taught the first school. Ann Mann, from Massachusetts, taught the first school at Perry Center, in 1813.

The first Town Meeting was held at the house of Peter Beebe, at which Jairus Crittenden was chosen Supervisor, Warren Buckland, Town Clerk, and Salmon Preston, Constable and Collector.

The first sermon was preached by Rev. Robert Winchell. The first religious service at Perry Center was held in 1813, by Rev. Mr. Herriek, (Bap.) while on his retreat from Buffalo. The first church was organized June 28th, 1814, at Perry Center, by Rev. Oliver Ayer and Rev. Silas Hubbard, missionaries, sent out by the Connecticut Missionary Society. The religious services at that early day were held in log houses and barns. After school houses were built the Sabbath services were held in them. The Church was Congregational at its organization, but in 1840 united with the Geneva Presbytery, on the "accommodation plan." The following are the names of the members at its organization, viz: Samuel Howard, Ralph Ward and wife, Jabez Ward, Catey Ward, Hervey Butler and wife, and Roxa Carpenter. Jabez Ward and Hervey Butler were the first deacons. The first church edifice was commenced in 1828, and dedicated March 4th, 1830, by Rev. Julius Steele, of Warsaw. The edifice was repaired in 1856, and re-dedicated December 29, Rev. J. E. Nassau, of Warsaw, preaching the sermon. Extensive repairs were also made in 1867. In 1881 the Church dissolved its connection with the Presbytery and has since been known as a Congregational church, uniting with the Wyoming County Conference of Congregationalists, on its organization, Jan. 17, 1865. The Sabbath School was established in connection with the Church, and a Bible class formed by Deacon H. Sheldon, about the year 1829. Captain P. McEntee was the Superintendent for several years after the organization of the school. The Presbyterian Church at Perry village is an offshoot of this Church, and was organized in 1835.

Wild animals of various kinds abounded in the forests and annoyed the settlers by preying upon their domestic animals. Mr. Otis brought in five hogs, four of which, with all their increase, were killed by bears. Mr. Otis however had his revenge by killing four bears. A couple of Indian hunters on one occasion followed a bear, which climbed a hollow tree and disappeared in the cavity. The Indians made a ladder, climbed the tree, and dropping a fire brand into the hollow trunk, stationed themselves near by to witness the result. Not caring to be burned in that place, Bruin soon came out and was dispatched with the rifles of the Indians. Wild game and fish, from Silver Lake, aided the settlers in supplying themselves with food during the early years of the settlement.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,366, and its area 22,300 acres.

There are fourteen school districts, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 637; the number attending school, 482; the average attendance, 257, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $5,324.83.

PIKE was formed from Nunda, (Livingston Co.,) March 6, 1818. Eagle was taken off in 1823, and a part of Genesee Falls in 1846. It lies upon the south border of the County, east of the center. The surface is a hilly and broken upland. East Coy Creek flows south, through the east part; and Wiscoy, south-east, through near the center. Enory Hill, the highest point in the town, is one hundred feet above the railroad at As-rite, and the lowest point, in the south-east part, is 200 feet below the railroad. The soil is a gravelly and clayey loam. There are several quarries of valuable building stone in the town.

Pike, (p. v.) situated a little south of the center of the town, on West Coy Creek, contains four churches, viz., Presbyterian, Methodist, Calvinist Baptist and F. W. Baptist; Pike Seminary, a bank, a hotel, three dry goods stores, three grocery stores, two hardware and two drug stores, a grist mill, a woolen factory, a saw and planing mill, a cheese box factory, a carriage factory, a cabinet shop, two shoe shops, three blacksmith shops, a harness shop and about 600 inhabitants.

Pike Seminary was incorporated, and the buildings erected, in 1856, under the name of the "Genesee Conference Seminary." The buildings cost about $9,000. In 1859 the name was changed. It is pleasantly situated in the central part of the village, and is under the patronage of the F. W. Baptist denomination. The courses of study in the institution have been carefully arranged for those students who wish to pursue a full seminary course, or to secure a thorough preparation for college, while at the same time they admit the widest range for all grades of select courses. Prof. W. W. Bean, A. M., is the present Principal, aided by a corps of competent assistants.

East Pike, (p. v.) in the north-east part of the town, on East Coy Creek, contains a Methodist church, a hotel, a grist mill, several stores and mechanic shops, and about twenty dwellings.

Pike Five Corners, in the west part, on West Coy Creek,

Griffith's Corners, and East Coy, on East Coy Creek, are hamlets.

The first settlement was made in 1806, by Peter Granger, Eli Griffith, Asahel Newcomb, Phineas Harvey and Caleb Powers, all from Whitehall, N. Y.

The first birth was that of Louisa Newcomb, daughter of Asahel Newcomb, August 1806; the first marriage was that of Russell H. Benton and Susanna Olin, February 23, 1809; and the first deaths were those of twin children of Phineas Harvey, in the spring of 1807. Mr. Harvey died during the fall of the same year.

Abel Townsend, from Massachusetts, settled in Pike in 1806, on lot 22, on the farm now owned by David Townsend.

The first school was taught by Miss Beulah Abell, from Washington Co., in the summer of 1809. Eli Griffith kept the first inn, at Pike village, in 1808; and Tilly Parker the first store, in 1810, at the same place. Eli Griffith built the first saw mill, in 1809, and the first grist mill, in 1810, a short distance above Pike village. The first church was formed September 25, 1821.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,805, and its area 19,700 acres.

The number of children of school age is 539; the number attending school, 417, and the average attendance for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was 208.

SHELDON was formed from Batavia, (Genesee County,) March 19, 1808. Attica was taken off in 1811, and Bennington and Arcade in 1818. The surface is a rolling upland from 400 to 600 feet above the valleys. Tonawanda Creek flows through the east, and several tributaries of Buffalo Creek through the west part. Cayuga Creek flows north near the Center. The soil upon the hills is a thin dark loam, underlaid by hardpan, and in the valleys a gravelly loam.

Strykersville, (p. v.) situated in the south-west corner of the town, contains two churches, viz: Baptist and Presbyterian, a hotel, three stores, a grist mill, two saw mills, three carriage shops, two blacksmith shops, two shoe shops, a cabinet shop, two cooper shops, a harness shop, a brewery, a marble shop, a sash and blind factory, a tin shop, and about 300 inhabitants.

Johnsonburgh, (p. v.) on the east border of the town, partly in Orangeville, contains a Methodist church, a hotel, two carriage shops, a grocery, a harness shop, a blacksmith shop and about 30 dwellings.

Varysburgh, (p. v.) in the north-west part, on Tonawanda Creek, contains two churches, viz: Methodist and F. W. Baptist, two dry goods stores, a hotel, a district school, a select school, a tin shop, two blacksmith shops, a grist mill, a saw mill, a cheese box factory, a carding machine, a cabinet shop, two shoe shops, a tailor shop, a wagon shop, a cheese factory and about 200 inhabitants. About a mile north of the village is a drain tile manufactory.

Sheldon Center (p. v.) contains a hotel, two stores, two wagon shops, two blacksmith shops, a harness shop, two shoe shops, a saloon, an insurance office, a pump factory, a tin shop and about 20 dwellings.

Straub's Corners is about a mile and a half west of Sheldon Center, and contains a Roman Catholic church, a store, a shoe shop, two hotels, a brewery and about a dozen dwellings.

Humphrey Hollow, contains a tannery, a pump factory, a cooper shop, a blacksmith shop, a saw mill, a cheese factory and a school house.

Dutch Hollow, in the west part, contains a Lutheran church, a blacksmith shop, a steam saw mill, a store, a hotel, a harness shop and a school house.

North Sheldon, in the north part of the town, is a hamlet. About three fourths of a mile east, there is a steam saw mill.

The first settlement of this town was made by Roswell Turner, in 1804. Mr. Turner was agent of Messrs. Phelps & Chipman, the proprietors of the town. Elijah Warner surveyed the town into farm lots, assisted by Roswell Turner, Joseph Sears and Tabor Earl. While engaged in this work their supply of provisions failed, and for five days they lived on fish, wild berries and roots. While attempting to find their way out, some of them nearly exhausted, they were met by Judge Chipman and supplied with provisions. Mr. Turner moved his family into the town in March. The next winter was one of great privation and suffering. He had sixteen head of cattle to winter, chiefly upon browse. The snow was very deep, sometimes preventing the cattle from going into the woods, when the browse had to be cut and carried in baskets to them. Provisions were brought from Honeoye and the Genesee River. On one occasion, Mr. Turner started from the Genesee River with a load upon an ox sled, and went back and staid the first and second nights. The snow was so deep that his progress was very slow, and proceeding as far as possible the first day, he left his load and returned with his oxen; this was repeated for two days. He was five days in making the journey to Sheldon, a distance of twenty-five miles. Previous to this, while fording Oatka Creek, a short distance below the village of Warsaw, he froze his feet so badly that he had to be taken back to Honeoye on an ox sled.

Robert Carr and David Hoard were the next settlers, and came in 1805. The next year the settlement was increased by the accession of Seth Gates, Lemuel Castle, Levi Street, Marvin Bruce, Stephen Welton and Orange Bruce. Most of these were from the eastern part of the State. Immigration was quite rapid for several years. Mr. Turner opened an inn in his log cabin, where he entertained the settlers in true pioneer style. In addition to the provisions which he brought with him, he brought twenty loads during the first two years, most of which was for the benefit of the new settlers.

The first birth in the town was that of Chipman Phelps Turner, a son of the first settler and a brother of O. Turner, author of "Pioneer History of Western New York." The first school in the town was taught by Polly Rolph, in 1807, in a log house erected by Mr. Turner. The first marriage was that of Justin Loomis and Polly Rolph, in 1807, and the first death was that of David Hoard, who was killed by the fall of a limb of a tree, in 1805. The first physician was John Rolph, and the next one Benjamin Potter.

Dr. Ziba Hamilton came in 1809 and practiced a long time, being the oldest practicing physician upon the Holland Purchase for many years. The mail was carried from Canandaigua, through Geneseo, Warsaw and Sheldon, to Lake Erie, by Levi Street. The first religious services were held at the house of Roswell Turner, by Rev. Mr. Spencer, of the Baptist denomination.

Among the other early settlers were Joshua Gates, Lodowick Thomas, Benjamin Joslyn, Uriah Persons and his sons, Uriah, David, Joseph, John, William, Robert, Charles, Hiram, Henry, Elihu and two others, twelve in all; Hubbard Fitch, Simeon Hoard, Joel Harris, Edward Brace, Robert Waters, Jared and Roswell Barber, John Sunderland, and persons named Godfrey, Grinnel, Woodruff, Peagles, Frink and Sherman. Wild animals were abundant, and sheep in all cases had to be yarded at night; but the bears, wolves and foxes preyed upon the poultry and the smaller animals to the great annoyance of the settlers. Deer were abundant, and the hills and valleys of Wyoming County were the favorite hunting grounds of the Indians long after their settlement.

Seth Gates, whose name has already been mentioned among those of the early settlers, came from Connecticut to this town in March, 1806, his house being the third built in the town. He was active in the organization of the Baptist Church, and became one of its deacons. He commanded a company of light infantry on the Frontier during the War of 1812, until the Battle of Queenstown had so thinned its ranks that it was consolidated with another company. He was the father of Chauncey C. and Seth M. Gates, of Warsaw.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,591, and its area 29,820 acres.

There are sixteen school districts, employing seventeen teachers. The number of children of school age is 1,159; the number attending school, 811; the average attendance, 332, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $4,049.71.

WARSAW was formed from Batavia, (Genesee Co.,) March 19, 1808. Middlebury was taken off in 1812, and Gainesville in 1814. It is an interior town, lying north-east of the center of the County, and is about 250 miles from Albany, 400 from New York City, 45 from Buffalo and about the same distance from Rochester; with all of these places it is connected by railroad. The surface is a broken upland, divided into two ridges by the valley of Oatka Creek, which flows north through the center of the town. The valley is from half a mile to a mile in width. The declivities of the hills are steep, and from 700 to 1,000 feet above the valleys. The town is well watered by the Oatka Creek and its branches, upon one of which, Mill Brook, is a beautiful cascade of about one hundred feet in height. These falls and the surrounding scenery are greatly admired by visitors and are pronounced superior in point of beauty and interest to many natural curiosities more widely known. The soil is well adapted to pasturage and raising grain, yielding a fair remuneration to the labor of the husbandman. A branch of the Erie Railway connecting Buffalo and Hornellsville, extends through the town near the center, and the Rochester and State Line Railroad has been located through the town.

Warsaw, (p. v.) situated on Oatka Creek, near the center of the town, was incorporated April 17, 1845. It is the County Seat and contains besides the County buildings, six churches, viz., Presbyterian, Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Roman Catholic; two printing offices, at one of which is issued the "Western New Yorker," and at the other the "Wyoming Democrat" and the "Masonic Tidings;" three hotels, a bank, two carriage shops, a tannery, a planing mill, a foundry, a barrel manufactory, a saw mill, two grist mills, the usual number of stores and mechanic shops of various kinds, and about 1,800 inhabitants.

The Fair Ground of the Wyoming County Agricultural Society is located in the south-west part of the village, and consists of about fifteen acres.

South Warsaw, in the south part of the town, on Oatka Creek, contains a hotel, a store, several mechanic shops and about twenty dwellings.

Warsaw Depot, about a mile from the village, contains the buildings of the Railroad Company and about a dozen dwellings.

The settlement of this town was commenced in 1803, by Elizur Webster, from Washington County. The township was

No. 9, of the First Range of the Holland Purchase, but the internal survey and division into lots had not been made. After a careful exploration of the township, Mr. Webster decided to make a purchase and settle within its limits. Wishing to ascertain the center of the township, and having no surveyor's chain, he made a substitute of elm or bass-wood bark, and starting from the center of the south line of Township No. 10, he ran south three miles, and fixed upon that point as the center. Actual survey subsequently proved that this point varied but a few rods from the true center. Mr. Webster then proceeded to Batavia to negotiate a purchase, but the agent, Mr. Ellicott, declined to make the survey of the township, as there was a large amount of land in other parts of the Purchase already surveyed into lots. Mr. Webster's entreaties were of no avail until the agent learned that he had about a thousand dollars in money, one-half of which would be paid over on the execution of the contract. He purchased about 3,000 acres, lying along the valley of Oatka Creek, for $1.50 per acre, the minimum price, though the land was the best in the township. His good fortune was in consequence of Mr. Ellicott not being well informed as to the situation and value of the land. He purchased on credit, paying a small sum upon each lot and selling out to others at an advance of fifty cents per acre, those purchasing of him assuming his contract. His contract was dated June 20, 1803. He immediately began a settlement, erecting a log house near the present site of the Baptist church in the village. The house was of the rudest kind, neither nail or board entering into its construction. The roof was of bark, and the floor of basswood plank, split and hewed upon one side. His family was removed to their new home in the following October. He came with two teams, one of horses, the other of two yoke of oxen. Shubael Morris and Amos Keeney were the drivers of the ox team. They came by way of LeRoy, and the new settlement in Middlebury, since known as Wright's Corners. Lyman Morris came about the same time.

Among the settlers who came in during the year 1804, were Josiah Hovey, Sen. and Jun., with several others of the same family, which numbered thirteen; Elijah Cutting, Josiah Jewett, Nehemiah Fargo, Josiah Boardman, Jonas Cutting, William Knapp, Amos Keeney, Lyman Morris, Sterling Stearns and others. Jonas Cutting came from Vermont and settled in 1804, on the farm now occupied by H. S. Taber, about a mile south of the village. Nehemiah Fargo came in the same year. He was a native of Connecticut and had resided in several different places previous to his removal to this town. He had eight children, several of whom came with him and settled here.

Elas C. Fargo, his oldest son, settled here in 1804, and was married to Miss Catharine Whiting, March 2, 1806. This was the first marriage in the town and was solemnized by Elizur Webster, the first Justice of the Peace. Mr. Fargo resided here until 1807, when he removed to Fond du Lac, Wis. David Fargo, another son, located on a farm about one and a half miles north of the village, and Palmer Fargo located on the farm upon which he now resides, in the north part of the town. Allen Fargo, another son, also came with his father and became a resident. The Hoveys also came in and settled in 1804, in the north part. Josiah Hovey, Sen., was a native of Connecticut, and assisted in forming the first Methodist church in this town. He had thirteen children. Simeon Hovey, in company with his brothers, Gurdon and Josiah, purchased lot 24, in the fall of 1803, and built a house into which they removed the next March. The three brothers occupied the same house for a time, until the others had time to build. Simeon Hovey resided near the place where he first settled, until within a few years of his death, when he removed to Monroe County, where he died in 1862. His widow still resides in the village of Warsaw, with her son. He built, for Judge Webster, the first saw mill, in 1805. Joseph Palmer, from Bennington, Vt., settled in 1804, near the burying ground. In 1806 there was quite an accession to the population. Among the settlers were Elkanah Day, from Massachusetts; he was the first blacksmith in the town and settled near the site of the Brick Hotel. He was appointed a Justice of the Peace in 1810, and an Assistant Justice of the County Court, which offices he held for several years. Daniel Knapp, from Vermont, settled the same year. His father, Wm. Knapp, Sen., and his brothers, William and John R., came in and settled a few years later. Lot Marchant settled in 1806, about a mile east of the village. Lyman Morris settled about a mile north of the village, where he resided until his death, in 1854. His brother, Solomon, Jr., settled in 1806, on the farm now occupied by his son, Luther. He was for many years the principal surveyor of the town and was eleven times elected Supervisor. Solomon Morris, Sen., settled in 1807, on lot 26. He purchased the grist mill nearly completed by Joseph Mauldy; this was the first grist mill in the town.

Sterling Stearns had previously settled at Wright's Corners, in Middlebury. On his way from that place he stopped over night at Mr. Webster's, where one of his children died of the croup. The body was buried in what is now called the Old Grave Yard, on the hill, in the south part of the village. The coffin was made of a part of a wagon box, 20 other boards being at hand, and the body was buried by Amos Keeney, Elijah Cutting and William Webster. The water in the creek was very high and had to be crossed on a log, the party advancing in single file, one of them carrying the coffin under his arm. In the fall of the same year another death occurred, that of a son of Nehemiah Fargo, drowned in the Oaska Creek.

The settlement is said to have had a few additions in 1805, and a large number in 1806.

One of the greatest inconveniences under which the early settlers labored was caused by the want of mills, and the difficulty of reaching them on account of the lack of roads. For several years the nearest accessible grist mill was at LeRoy, a trip to which required two or three days. A mill at Conesus was sometimes patronized.

The early settlers were from New England, or the eastern part of this State, with but little available means on their arrival except their teams and their own stout hearts and strong arms. The experience of Amos Keeney, as described in the "History of Warsaw," will give a tolerable idea of the hardships of the early settlers.

"Mr. Keeney, as has already been stated, accompanied Judge Webster to Warsaw in October 1803, driving one of his teams. He bargained with Mr. Webster for fifty acres of land, now a part of the farm of Samuel Fisher, 2d, which was to be paid for by clearing ten acres for Webster. The condition of his domestic affairs prevented his staying to build a house, and he traveled back to Hampton on foot, with Lyman Morris, who also had contracted for a farm. He returned in March, built his log cabin, chopped, towards paying for his land, two acres on the north side of what is now Buffalo street, between Main street and the creek, and started again for Hampton, carrying his provisions in a knapsack. Crossing Genesee River, he came near losing his life. Having but ten shillings, and over three hundred miles to travel, he could not afford to pay the ferriage fee of a shilling, and ventured to ford the stream, feeling his way with a long stick. Being a man of small stature, and stumbling over the stones, he found it difficult to maintain his balance amidst the deep and powerful current. Getting his knapsack replenished by a brother in Oneida County, he was enabled to reach Hampton, having the last day morning paid out his last sixpence for lodging."

"In October he and Lyman Morris came in with their families: Mr. Keeney having a wife and three children, and Mr. Morris a wife and two children. They had but one wagon, which carried all the household goods of both families, with the women and children. The wagon and the team of two yoke of ten belonged to Morris, who had three cows, and Keeney one. When within about ten miles of Warsaw the king bolt of the wagon broke and they had to camp in the woods over night. The next mornig, a second trial of a wooden bolt having failed, the company started for their destination on foot, leaving the wagon with the goods standing in the woods. Mr. Morris drove his oxen and carried Jonathan, then about two years old. Stephen Perkins drove the cows and carried George, then nearly five years old. Mr. Keeney put on his overcoat, and by turning up the bottom formed a kind of a knapsack, in which he carried his two oldest children, Betsey and Harry, and his wife carried the baby, about six months old. Mrs. Morris, though she had no child to carry, did not go empty handed. This is probably the only instance known of ten emigrants entering a place, five of them being carried by four of the other five. Morris having got through first and made known their situation, Mr. Webster went to meet the others, and met them a mile and a half north of the village, at the foot of the hill, on the "Old Buffalo Road," then just opened from Leicester. He there relieved Mrs. Keeney of her burden, and escorted the new comers to his hospitable cabin home."

At the time of his arrival, Mr. Keeney owed ten dollars for the transportation of his goods; while his stock of provisions was reduced to a few pounds of flour and a part of a salt fish. His house was of the rudest kind, having no chimney, the fire place not even having a stone back-wall. Mrs. Keeney parted with a portion of her scanty wardrobe to procure some grain for their subsistence. The corn thus purchased was in Geneseo, and thither Mr. Keeney went with an ox team to procure it, going six miles further, to Conesus, to have it ground. Their meat during the first winter was chiefly venison, supplied by the skillful use of Judge Webster's rifle.

The first saw mill was erected, according to some authorities, in 1804, but Mr. Young, in his "History of Warsaw," states upon what appears to be good authority, that the mill, if commenced, was not put in operation until the next year. It was located on Oatka Creek, a short distance north of South Warsaw, near the present site of Leonard Martin's saw mill. The first grist mill, near the same place, was erected in 1806, but not put in operation until 1807 or 1808, by Solomon Morris. The first inn was kept by Judge Webster, and the first store by Abiel Green and Daniel Shaw, in 1809. Their stock of goods appears to have been quite limited in quantity and variety. In 1813, Almon Stevens, agent for John Dixon, a merchant of Richmond, Ontario County, brought in a stock of goods and occupied what was previously Webster's bar-room. The first physician was Chauncey L. Sheldon; he came into town in 1808.

For several years after the settlement of the town was commenced, the people were obliged to go to Batavia for most of their public business, that town being the County Seat as well as embracing most of the towns now included in Wyoming County. Amos Keeney and Peter W. Harris were the first jurors from Warsaw. They were gone five days, tried three causes, received seventy-five cents fees and paid two dollars each for board.

The first Town Meeting of the town of Warsaw was held in the spring of 1808; Elizur Webster was chosen Supervisor; Samuel McWhorter, Town Clerk; Richard Bristol, Gideon T. Jenkins, Ebenezer Wilson, Assessors; Jotham Curtis and Solomon Morris, Sen., Overseers of the Poor.

The early settlers were greatly annoyed by wild animals, so much so that large bounties were offered for wolves, from which the inhabitants were much annoyed. Five dollars was the usual bounty per head, though it was much more at sometimes.

In 1808, Benjamin Parker came near losing his life by bears. He was returning from Perry, through the forest that covered nearly the whole region between the Transit and Perry Center, when he met seven bears, three old ones and four young ones. Having no other weapon than a large club, he struck one of the bears, breaking his club and leaving no alternative but retreat, which was accomplished, taking refuge in a small tree by the roadside. His cry for help was heard by Mr. Smith, though more than a mile distant, and forthwith he came with ax, dog and gun, to the relief of the prisoner whom the bears were safely guarding. The four young bears and two of the old ones were soon treed, and as it was near night, fires were kindled to prevent their escape. In the morning the two old bears were shot and the young ones taken alive.

Joel McWethey moved from Granville, N. Y., to Warsaw, in 1814. He served in the War of 1812. He raised a family of nine children, all but one of whom are now living, and all married. He resided in the town until about a year ago, when he and his wife removed to Wisconsin. He is now 82 years old, and his wife 81. David McWethey, son of Joel, has lived in this town 57 years, and is now 64 years old. He has been a successful merchant in Wethersfield and Attica for 17 years, and has been a first class farmer in Wethersfield and Orangeville, his farm containing 100 acres. Mr. McWethey erected the stores now occupied by L. E. Walker and by Ottinger and Levi. The cost was $15,000.

Previous to 1816 the site of the present village of Warsaw contained about half a dozen framed houses. At this time

Sinceon Cummings, of Batavia, who had previously purchased forty acres of land of Judge Webster for the sum of $8,500, began the construction of a grist mill. This, with the construction of a mill race, gave increased activity to the place. The mill was put in operation the same year, and an oil mill was erected a year or two later, near where the race crosses Water street. Mr. Cummings laid out Water and Court streets, and the land adjoining them and Main and Buffalo streets was laid out into lots. From this time the village continued to improve gradually until 1836, when F. C. D. McKay purchased the Webster estate, including the land on both sides of Buffalo street, west of the bridge. This was laid out into lots, and buildings were subsequently erected. In 1867 a fire occurred which destroyed several buildings on Main street, north of Buffalo, but the site was soon covered by a fine block of brick buildings which would be a credit to any village in the State. In 1868, George W. Frank and Elbert E. Farman purchased of John A. McElwain several acres of land lying north of Genesee street and east of the lots on Main street, and laid it out into building lots, opening two new streets.

For many years Warsaw was the center of trade for an extensive region. There were stores at Attica, Batavia and LeRoy, and at Perry, the only adjoining town so highly favored. Few goods were sold for cash, almost the whole trade being on credit or for barter. Notes were made payable in grain, lumber, cattle and other articles. Maple sugar formed an important article of trade for many years, constituting the principal article for sweetening. Ashes formed one of the most important articles of trade, and after being converted into black salts, was one of the most valuable articles at the command of the inhabitants; containing great value in small weight, they could be easily transported and commanded a ready market.

The manufacturing of the town has never been extensive. At an early day a carding and cloth-dressing establishment was built by Seymour Ensign, in the south part of the town, on a small stream that crosses the road near South Warsaw. Another was afterwards built upon Oatka Creek, in the same neighborhood. In 1816 a carding and cloth-dressing establishment was erected in the village by Samuel Hough and Elijah Norton. It was owned by several different parties and was afterwards changed to a tannery, and still later to a foundry, and is now owned by Mr. Henry Garretsee. In 1825 a woollen factory was started by Messrs. Conable & Moss, at South Warsaw. It was kept in operation for several years and was finally destroyed by fire. In 1841 a woollen factory was established by Gardner, Utter & Co. An extensive business was carried on for several years. It was subsequently converted into a grist mill, now owned by Messrs. Brown.

In 1824 Horace Hollister established the business of carriage and sleigh making on Water street. In 1836 he sold out to the Buxton Brothers, who have continued the business with slight changes in the firm up to the present time. Their place of business is now on Main street, near the Baptist church. They began the business with a small capital, purchasing chiefly upon credit. The reputation which their work soon acquired, caused a large increase in their business, amounting to from $20,000 to $30,000 annually. Nearly $15,000 worth were sold in Illinois in a single year. The business is still continued by T. H. Buxton & Co.

The Map Roller Factory of Martin & Co., located about one and a half miles south of the village, was started in 1853, by Leonard L. Martin, who had previously erected a saw mill at the same place. It gives employment to from ten to fifteen hands and turns out about $1,000 worth monthly. About 150,000 feet of lumber are used and about 125,000 rollers are made annually.

The Foundry of Gates & Garretsee, in the south part of the village, turns out from $15,000 to $20,000 worth annually. Stoves are extensively manufactured, and various kinds of machinery and agricultural implements.

The Patterson Manufacturing Company was organized in 1866, for the purpose of carrying on the business of manufacturing lumber. It is run by steam, and in addition to the usual machinery for dressing lumber, there is a manufactory of staves, heading and barrels.

The manufacture of Frank Miller's Water Proof Blacking, was commenced and carried on in this town for many years. Like many other enterprises, it was small in its commencement, but its merits gave a sale which has extended to almost every State, and brings to its inventor an income never anticipated in the early years of its sale. Mr. Miller is still a resident of Warsaw.

The first school in the town was taught by Samuel McWhorter, about the year 1807 or 1808. It was kept in a log house, erected in 1804, by Amos Keeney, for a dwelling. The school-houses were of a pattern similar to the dwellings, built of logs, sometimes covered with shakes or slabs split from logs. The seats were slabs resting upon four legs, and the writing desks were constructed by boring into the walls and inserting large wooden pins, upon which boards were fastened. The pupils when writing faced the wall, and when facing the interior of the room had the edge of a board to lean against.

The first church organization was effected July 14, 1808, under the labors of Rev. John Lindsley, a missionary in these parts. It consisted of ten members and was called the First Congregational Church of Warsaw. It subsequently adopted the Presbyterian form of government and has so continued to the present time. The names of the members at the time of the organization were Edward Goodspeed, Eliphalet Parker, Luther Parker, Ezra Walker, Abraham Reed, Israel Branch, Polly Day, Prudence A. Walker, Martha Parker and Rhoda Parker. Eliphalet Parker and Israel Branch were the first deacons. Abraham Reed was chosen Moderator, and Ezra Walker, Church Clerk. It is not known at what time the first religious services were held, but as late as 1807, at the funeral of Dwight Noble, no religious services were held. Among the early missionaries mentioned are Messrs. Phelps, Parmelee, Spencer, and Oliver Ayer. Mr. Ayer visited the place in 1808 or 1809, and spent one Sabbath, as was his custom, but observing an unusual seriousness he spent a second Sabbath and wrote home for leave to remain longer. Permission was granted and he remained three or four months, his labor resulting in the conversion of several heads of families, among whom were some of the most prominent citizens of the town. Rev. Silas Hubbard was the first installed pastor, in 1813. In 1814 he resigned on account of ill health, and was succeeded in 1816 by Hippocrates Rowe, who supplied the churches at Warsaw and Orangeville on alternate Sabbaths. The first services were held in the school house, which stood where the Baptist church now stands. The first church edifice was erected in 1817, by the Presbyterians and Baptists. It was inclosed and used in the summer season for several years, and was finally finished by the Presbyterians, who had purchased the interest held by the Baptists. A Sabbath school was established in 1818, one of the first in this part of the State. July 23d, 1858, the Church celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its organization. Other churches in the village participated in the exercises. The present church edifice was commenced in 1864, and completed and dedicated September 21st, 1865. It is of brick, eighty-five feet in length and forty-five feet in width, with a tower and spire over the main entrance one hundred and fifty feet in height. The windows are of stained glass and the interior arrangement is in good taste. The whole cost was about $18,000. Rev. Joseph E. Nassau, the present pastor, was installed October 24th, 1855.

The First Methodist Episcopal Society of Warsaw was organized in 1820. Previous to this, classes had been formed and preaching by the circuit preachers was enjoyed. The first preachers of this denomination were P. Van Nest and A. Jenks, in 1807. Among the other early preachers were Cyrus Story, Joseph Gatchell, James Mitchell, William Brown and John Kimberlin. From the best information at hand, it appears that a class was formed in 1809. Simeon Hovey was probably the first class-leader, and Josiah Hovey and Shubael Morris were appointed soon after. The class meetings in the north part of the town were held at the house of Josiah Hovey, and at the south part at the house of Solomon Morris, Sen. Among the early members of the society, not already mentioned, were John Morris, Elam Perkins, Anson A. Perkins, Carl W. Flower, Simeon Gibson, and their wives; Moses Perkins, Joseph Miller, Lyman Parker, and their wives; also the wives of Josiah Hovey, Sen., Nehemiah Park, Simeon R. Glazier, Daniel Knapp, and perhaps others. The first Trustees of the Methodist Society were Simeon Hovey, Chester Hurd, John Morris, Anson A. Perkins, Nathan B. Miller, Lyman Parker, Josiah Hovey, Roderick Chapin, Jr., and Eleazur Smith. The first house of worship was erected in 1824, at the Corners, about three-fourths of a mile north of the village. In 1825 it was removed to the site of the present church edifice. A new church was built in 1854, and in 1868 was thoroughly repaired and repainted outside, and frescoed and otherwise improved inside, at an expense of $1,300. This is now said to be the largest and best framed church edifice in the County.

The Baptist Church and Society of Warsaw was legally organized June 9, 1828. The Trustees were David Fargo, Samuel Salisbury and Seth Higgins. The Church was organized Nov. 25th, 1810, by Rev. Mr. Irish, and consisted of the following members, viz., Joseph Porter and wife, Josiah Boardman and his wife and daughter, Noah Wiseman, John Truesdell, Levi Stearns, Hannah Stearns, John Brown, Wm. Brown, Miriam Brown, Levi Rice, Hannah Rice, Jeremiah Truesdell, Elijah Hammond, Rhoda Reed and Joanna Beardsley. Joseph Porter was the first Deacon, chosen in April, 1811. In the fall of this year Elder Jeremiah Irons was engaged to preach one-fourth of the time for one year. He was succeeded by Elder David Hurlburt, who served one year; and he was succeeded by Jabez Boomer, the first settled pastor of the Church. It has already been stated that the Presbyterians and Baptists erected a church jointly, in 1817, and in 1819 the Presbyterians assumed the entire interest. The first church edifice was dedicated during the pastorate of Rev. David Bernard, between 1827 and 1830. Previous to the erection of this house of worship, the society worshipped in barns and school houses. Hon. James R. Doolittle, late U. S. Senator from Wisconsin, was a member of this Church. Their first house of worship was located in the south part of the village, near the old cemetery, and after being occupied for twenty years, a new one was erected in the village and is now occupied by the society.

The Congregational Church was organized Feb. 16, 1840. It was composed chiefly of those who had been members of the Presbyterian Church, and requested letters for the purpose of constituting a new church. Among the conditions of membership of this Church we find the following, viz.:

"No person shall be admitted to membership in this Church who does not wholly refrain from the use of all intoxicating drinks as a beverage, or who in any way gives countenance or support to the manufacture or traffic in such drinks for that purpose.

"No person shall be admitted to this Church, who is a slaveholder, or holds security in slaves as property, or traffics in the persons of men."

The first place of worship of this society was the "Baptist Vestry Room," on the south side of Buffalo street. They immediately took measures to erect a new church, which was completed the next year at a cost of about $3,000. Its size was 36 by 45 feet. It was several times enlarged and improved, but a more commodious house being desired, early in the year 1866, measures were taken to erect a new one. The corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremony July 6, 1866. It was completed and dedicated, free from debt, Aug. 7, 1867. It is 94 by 58 feet in size, and will seat 600 persons. It is of the Norman style of architecture, with two towers of unequal height, the highest being 64 1-2 feet. The organ, costing $2,000, was presented by Joshua H. Darling, Esq. The first pastor of this Church was Rev. Huntington Lyman. Rev. Edwin E. Williams is the present pastor. The present membership is about 250. The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization was celebrated February 16, 1865, and was participated in by a large number, including members of other churches in the town.

The Episcopal Church was organized May 12, 1852, under the name of the "Parish of Trinity Church." Services were held at a much earlier date, and in Sept., 1828, six persons were confirmed by Bishop Hobart. Rev. Richard Salmon, who labored as a missionary in this and adjoining towns for several years, reported in 1829 that the congregation was flourishing and the Sabbath School had increased from twenty-five to between eighty and ninety. Rev. A. D. Benedict was the rector of the Church at the time of its organization in 1852. John A. McElwain and John G. Meacham were elected Church Wardens; and Alonzo W. Wood, Nehemiah Park, Jr., Linus W. Thayer, Noble Morris, Ransom S. Watson, Charles W. Bailey, Richard M. Tunks and Abel Webster, Vestrymen. Their house of worship was dedicated May 25, 1854. Rev. John V. Stryker is the present rector.

The Free-Will Baptist Church was organized, in the south-east part of the town, in 1833, with four members. During the next year about thirty were added to the number, under the efficient labors of Elder H. Jenkins. Emery D. Albro and Alden Kent were chosen Deacons. Their church edifice was completed and dedicated in 1835. Elder H. N. Plumb preached on the occasion. Jared Miner and William Moses preached in the church until 1836, when Elder Reed became its pastor.

A German Church is located in the west part of the town, and a Roman Catholic Church in the village.

A Pioneer Festival was held at the house of Dr. Augustus Frank, in February 1850. He had previously extended invitations to all persons, male and female, residing within the corporation and not less than fifty years of age. Fifty-five persons were present on the occasion. After some time spent in social intercourse, they partook of a bountiful meal, provided by their host, and listened to remarks from several of the early settlers who related incidents of pioneer life. Mr. Lyman Morris came to the town in 1803. There was then only one acre of land cleared within the limits of the township. The route from here to Geneseo was by way of LeRoy, and was considered a three days' journey. Mr. Fargo was the first to pass on the Old Buffalo Road with a wagon. The average age of the guests was 73 years, and not one of them was a native of Warsaw.

In 1860 another festive gathering took place in the yards of Messrs. Frank and Edwin B. Miller, in pursuance of invitations previously extended. The exercises consisted of music, speaking and general social intercourse. Refreshments were served by the ladies. S. M. Gates made an address in which he related some incidents of pioneer life. Deacon Samuel Salisbury, aged 73 years, was called upon and addressed the meeting.

He was one of the pioneers of the town, and thought he had cleared more land with his own hands than any other man now living in the town. He was once passing through some woods with two men, being a little in advance of them, when they alarmed him by the cry of Bear! Bear! He soon discovered the bear in a tree, and working his way down. Having a brush hook in his hand, he ran towards the tree, intending to be ready for the bear when he reached the ground. The bear, perceiving his object, let go his hold and fell to the ground. They then had a race, Mr. S., brush-hook in hand, being the pursuer. The race terminated in the escape of the bear and also of the pursuer.

William Webster, brother of Elizur, came in 1803. He and his brother cut a road into the town. In 1808 he entered upon the farm he still occupied, and had made it what it is. He was not the oldest man, but believed he was the oldest settler in the town. He never had been troubled, as some young men of the present day seem to be, to find enough to do. He had worn himself out and would soon be gone.

Mr. Elam Perkins then spoke upon the subject of religion, and, after relating his experience, closed by exhorting all to come to Christ.

Mr. Julius Whitlock came to Warsaw in 1810, and took up his farm. War came on soon after; Buffalo was burned and news came that the Indians were coming down upon us. At one time he drove his cattle into a swamp, where he thought the Indians could not find them; moved his pork barrel into the woods, and all hands left the house, he carrying the child, and remained all night. After that he belonged to a cavalry company which was sent to Canada. The company fell into an ambush and were fired upon by the Indians. His horse was wounded, the company fled and he was left behind. William Bristol came back and rescued him.

Mr. Chester Hurd was a carpenter and joiner and had built eight churches. He had built many good houses but had himself always lived in poor ones. News came at one time that the Indians would be there the next day. Some of the women armed themselves with bush scythes, pitchforks and other weapons. He was framing a building, when Judge Webster came along and advised him to take the timbers and build a fort, saying the Indians were coming and we should want them. He left the work, went through the woods home and found his family abandoning their home and taking shelter in the woods.

Few towns can show a better record for patriotism and earnest support of the Government during the Great Rebellion than Warsaw. At the first public meeting called after the outbreak of the Rebellion, over $3,000 were subscribed for the support of the families of volunteers, and measures were taken to raise a company for the war. In less than a week a full company was raised, forty-eight of whom were from Warsaw. Gideon H. Jenkins was the Captain, and Harwood A. Dudley, Lieutenant of the company. It was attached to the Seventeenth Regiment, and did good service during the time of its enlistment. During the fall of 1861, a full company of cavalry was recruited by Rev.

H. H. Stimson and Asa B. Merrill; it was attached to the 9th Cavalry and re-enlisted as veterans at the close of its three years' service. Warsaw furnished twenty men to this company. Capt. W. G. Bently and Lieut. W. L. Knapp recruited a company for the same regiment, Warsaw furnishing its full quota. In 1862 a town bounty of $60 was raised by subscription for each volunteer. In August, Capt. J. W. Knapp commenced recruiting for the 130th Regiment, thirty privates and six officers enlisting from Warsaw. Capt. Knapp served to the end of the war, was promoted to be Major and afterwards to the brevet rank of Colonel. Captain H. B. Jenks and Augustus Harrington recruited companies for the 136th Regiment, Warsaw furnishing seven officers and thirty privates for the former, and three officers and seven men for the latter. Warsaw furnished its full quota under every call without resorting to a draft in a single case. About two hundred men were furnished from this town during the war. In 1864 a Fair was held for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, at which $750 were raised. The amount raised by special tax for the support of the war, for bounties, &c., was $60,810. The town also paid $10,956 as a bounty, which was afterwards refunded by the State. The citizens generally contributed freely of their means, some of them paying from $600 to $1,000 for personal substitutes. When the patriotic soldiers returned at the close of the war, they were received in a way calculated to make them feel that their services were appreciated.

Warsaw furnished one delegate to the Convention for revising the State Constitution in 1821, viz., Elizur Webster. Andrew W. Young filled the same office in the Convention of 1846. Augustus Frank and Wm. H. Merrill were the delegates to the Convention of 1867. Mr. Merrill was the member elected by the district, and Mr. Frank was elected one of the Delegates at Large on the general ticket.

This town has furnished two members of Congress. Hon. William Patterson was the Representative from 1837 to 1839, but died previous to the expiration of his term, Aug. 14, 1838. He was born in Londonderry, N. H., June 4, 1789, and removed to this State in 1815.

Hon. Augustus Frank was a Representative to Congress from 1859 to 1865. He served on the Committees on Patents, Library and Mileage. During his last term he was Chairman of the Committee on the Library. He was born in Warsaw, July 17, 1826. In 1856 he was a delegate to the first National Convention of the Republican party. During his service in Congress he gave a cordial support to all the measures of the Administration for the suppression of the Rebellion and the abolition of slavery, representing faithfully the strong anti-slavery sentiment of the district.

The first lawyer who located in this town was Robert Moore. He came in 1817, and soon after removed to Perry, where he resided until his death. Mayhew Safford and Warren Lewis came about the same time. Theophilus Capen, James Crocker, F. C. D. McKay, Thomas J. Sutherland, James R. Doolittle, Linus W. Thayer, W. Riley Smith, W. S. Crozier, Leonard W. Smith, Charles W. Bailey, Harlow L. Comstock, Charles Henshaw, Abonzo W. Wood, Henry C. Page, Byron Healy, Elbert E. Farman, Myron E. Bartlett, I. Sam Johnson and Beriah N. Pierce, have practiced law and resided in this town since its settlement. The first physician in the town was Chauncey L. Sheldon, who came in 1808 and continued to practice until his death in 1828. Dr. Augustus Frank came in 1817, and after practicing for several years, engaged in mercantile pursuits. The other physicians who have resided and practiced in this town are Cyrus Rumsey, Peter Caner, Thomas P. Baldwin, Seth S. Ransom, Ethan E. Bartlett, Jonathan Hurlburt, Lindorf Potter, N. D. Stebbins, Dr. House, J. G. Meacham, C. W. Belden, Charles A. Duke, Dr. Blanchard, Dr. Day, Dr. Gardner, Dr. Wells, C. M. Duke, Milan Baker, E. W. Jenks, J. C. Pitts, Dr. Miller & Son, Dr. Maynard and Dr. Tibbets.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,824, and the area 22,440 acres.

There are twelve school districts, employing fifteen teachers. The number of children of school age is 842; the number attending school, 597; the average attendance, 295, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $5,599.61.

WETHERSFIELD was formed from Orangeville, April 12th, 1823. It is an interior town, lying south-west of the center of the County. The surface is a rolling upland. Tonawanda, East Coy and Wiscoy Creeks all take their rise in this town.

Wethersfield Springs, (p. v.) situated in the north-east part, on East Coy Creek, contains two churches, viz: Methodist and Episcopal; the Doolittle Institute, a hotel, a store, a cheese factory, a cheese box factory and about thirty dwellings. The Doolittle Institute received its name in honor of Ormus Doolittle, one of the early settlers, who contributed liberally towards its erection.

Hermitage (p. v.) is situated in the east part, on East Coy Creek, and contains two churches, viz: Baptist and Christian; a hôtel, three stores, a grist mill, a cheese factory, a cheese box factory, a flax mill and about twenty dwellings.

Wethersfield, (p. o.) commonly called Smith's Corners, located in the south part, is a hamlet.

North Wethersfield, (p. o.) in the north-west part of the town, contains a store, a grist mill and a shingle mill.

There are several saw mills in various parts of this town.

The first settlement was made on lot 11, in 1810, by Lewis Hancock, Gay Morgan and Calvin Clifford, from Jefferson County. John W. Parry, from Oneida County, settled at Wethersfield Springs in the fall of 1810, and erected the first house at that place.

The first school in that town was taught by O. Martin. The first grist mill was built by James Cravath, in 1812, on East Coy Creek, and the first saw mill by Calvin Clifford, on the same stream, in 1810.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,314, and its area 22,540 acres.

The number of children of school age is 426; the number attending school 343, and the average attendance for the year ending September 30th, 1869, was 176.

WYOMING COUNTY BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

EXPLANATIONS TO DIRECTORY.

Directory is arranged as follows: 1. Name of individual or firm. 2. Post office address in parenthesis. 3. If a farmer, the lot number indicates his residence. 4. Business or occupation.

A Star (*) placed before a name, indicates an advertiser in this work. For such advertisement see Index.

Figures placed after the occupation of farmers, indicate the number of acres of land owned or leased by the parties.

Names set in CAPITALS indicate subscribers to this work.

The word Street is implied as regards directory for villages.

For additions and corrections see Errata, following the Introduction.

CANCERS CURED!D. F. BISHOP, M. D.,*OF LOCKPORT, N. Y.,

Invites the attention of those afflicted with Cancer, to his mode of treatment, which has been practiced for a number of years with great success. The removal of the Tumor is speedily made without the use of the knife in the live tissue, and with but little pain. The question of radical cure of Cancer undoubtedly depends upon the time of its removal. It should be done before it breaks down by ulceration, and the earlier the better. The results of this treatment, which destroys the life of the Tumor before its removal, as compared with the use of the knife, will be readily understood in the difference of the two modes of removing a locust tree from the soil; to kill it by girdling or otherwise, leaving nature to complete the process—or to grub out the live tree, leaving many fibres to spring up and grow again. If you have a Cancer, please call and see me, or correspond.

THE GLEN & HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY!

WORKS ON FIRST AVENUE.
SALES ROOM, 10 SOUTH WATER STREET,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

MANUFACTURE THE CELEBRATED

Hall Thrashing Machines, AND HORSE POWERS!

Combined Clover Thrashers.
Hullers and Cleaners,
"Farmers' Favorite" Grain Drills, &c.

Our Thrashing Machines and Horse Powers are so well known, and have proved so superior to all others, that we do not find it only necessary to mention them.

Our Clover Machine, commonly known as "Collins & Sherrick's" has proved equally superior, and so great is our confidence in it, that we warrant it to give satisfaction to purchasers.

The "Farmers' Favorite" Grain Drill, is the most perfect implement ever offered to the Farmer of Western New York. It is the only Drill having separate sets of distributors for Coarse and Fine Grain. This feature has proved indispensable to accurate sowing.

We warrant it to sow Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats, Corn, Peas, or other Grains, evenly and in any desired quantity without having any seed. If it fails in any respect it may be returned and the money paid will be refunded.

We have a large stock of various kinds of agricultural implements on hand. See our list of prices for Hall Machines on application to the undersigned. J. H. Glen & Hall, Manufacturers.

ALL OUR WORK IS FULLY WARRANTED.

Catalogues and Price Lists of Machines and Repairs sent FREE to all applicants.

THE GLEN & HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY!

WORKS ON EAST AVENUE,
SALES ROOM, 10 SOUTH WATER STREET,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

MANUFACTURE THE CELEBRATED

Hall Thrashing Machines,

AND

HORSE POWERS!

Combined Clover Thrashers,

Hullers and Cleaners,

"Farmers' Favorite" Grain Drills, &c.

Our Thrashing Machines and Horse Powers are so well known, and have proved so far superior to all others, that we deem it only necessary to mention them.

Our Clover Machine, commonly known as "Collins & Shattuck's," has proved equally superior, and so great is our confidence in it that we warrant it to give satisfaction to purchasers.

The "Farmers' Favorite" Grain Drill, is the most perfect implement ever offered to the Farmers of Western New York. It is the only Drill having separate sets of distributors for Coarse and Fine Grain. This feature has proved indispensable to accurate sowing.

We WARRANT it to sow Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats, Corn, Peas, or other Grains, evenly and in any desired quantity without injuring any seed. If it fails in any respect it may be returned and the money paid will be returned.

We have full sets of patterns and pay special attention to supplying Repairs for all Hall Machines in use, including those made by the late Joseph Hall, Glen & Hall, ourselves or others.

ALL OUR WORK IS FULLY WARRANTED.

Catalogues and Price Lists of Machines and Repairs sent FREE to all applicants.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

The Silver Lake Sun, published at Perry, N. Y., by George A. Sanders, was started December 1, 1885, and has rapidly grown in favor with the people. It contains a variety of general and local news and a large amount of miscellaneous matter, rendering it one of the most desirable papers in Wyoming County. We commend this paper to advertisers and to all who wish a first-class local paper. See advertisement on page 198.

Perry Academy.—This institution, advertised on page 190, has been in successful operation for several years, sending forth influences that cannot fail to improve the hearts as well as the heads of the faithful students. The courses of study are sufficiently extensive for all academic purposes, including music and the ornamental branches. Parents who wish to send their children where their morals will be cared for and where they will at the same time receive careful training in the various branches of an education, will do well to send them to Perry Academy. The character of the Principal, Rev. E. Wildman, and his associates, is a sufficient guaranty that every interest will be provided for.

Vernon's Carriages, Wagon, N. Y., manufactures Carriages and Wagons, selecting the best of materials and doing his work in first-class style. Horse-shoeing and general Blacksmithing in all its departments is carried on. He employs none but good workmen, and as a consequence the work is well done. He cuts all kinds of Stencil Plates to suit customers. See card, page 225.

United States Hotel, Warsaw, N. Y., has recently been thoroughly refitted and furnished, and offers inducements to travelers and others, not surpassed by any other house in the village. Mr. S. D. Kelley, the proprietor, "can keep a hotel," as all his guests will cheerfully testify. He believes the true way to success is to satisfy the reasonable demands of his patrons, so that after stopping with him once they will ever after make his house their home. See card, colored page 170.

Water Cure.—Cordelia A. Greene, M. D., advertises on page 188, a Water Cure for Ladies and Children, at Castle, Wyoming Co., N. Y. The place is of convenient access via Buffalo Division of the E. R. Railway, and from the reputation of the proprietor, we have no doubt she will render her service satisfactory to her patients.

M. S. Vosburgh, Attica, N. Y., advertises on colored page 85. He is engaged in breeding Full Blood Jersey Cattle, which he will sell as low as they can be purchased anywhere in the United States. He also keeps choice varieties of Geese and Hens, which will be furnished to all who wish to purchase. Persons wishing stock, can rely upon the integrity and honesty of Mr. Vosburgh, and be sure of getting just what the stock is represented to be. We cordially commend him to all wishing to improve their breed of stock.

Andrus & Co., Grain and Produce Brokers, Perry, N. Y., advertises on colored page 85. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our patrons to this enterprising firm, believing that in so doing we are conferring a favor upon the farmers and others who have any kind of produce to sell, as by conferring with Messrs. Andrus & Co., they will be able to realize the highest market price for all farm produce. Mr. Andrus is also proprietor of the "Regulator Store," where Dry Goods, Carpets, Furs, Robes &c., can be procured at as low prices as at any other establishment in Wyoming County. Give him a call at Central Block, Perry, N. Y., and test the truth of our statement.

W. B. Champlin, dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals &c., Attica, N. Y., publishes a finely illustrated advertisement on page 136. His stock of Fancy and Toilet articles, and all goods usually kept in a Drug Store, is large and has been selected with special reference to the wants of his customers. Special care taken in putting up Physicians' prescriptions and in compounding all medicines required by his customers. Those interested will find it for their advantage to purchase of Mr. Champlin.

Thompson & Gyer, manufacturers and dealers in Flour, Feed &c., East Pike, N. Y., are prepared to furnish their customers with first-class Family Flour and Meal at prices as low as any other establishment in this County or vicinity. The proprietors will promptly fill all orders for anything in their line. Call and see. Their card appears on page 175.

George M. Palmer, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, Pike, N. Y., is prepared to attend to all professional calls. The afflicted who have occasion for his services will find him ever ready to attend to their interests. His card appears on page 175.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1866. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the heel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 16 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

His stables are good and nothing is wanting to render this house a comfortable home for the traveler. See card, page 210.

S. Newcomb & Son, Carriage Makers, Pike, N. Y., offer rare inducements to those wishing any kind of light Carriage, as they select the best of stock and make it up in a substantial and elegant manner. Their work has stood the test of wear and not been found wanting. Give them a call. They advertise on page 182.

Eagle Hotel, Eagle Village, N. Y., is one of the best country hotels to be found in this part of the State. Mr. Geo. B. McCraley, the proprietor, is the prince of good fellows, and has the happy faculty of making his guests feel at home. Everything about the house is neat, clean and in good order, and the weary traveler need not fear when he lies down at night that he will be carried off piece-meal before morning. See card, page 194.

Strykersville Marble Works.—Mr. Truman Royce, the proprietor of these extensive works, gives the public due notice, in an advertisement published on page 164, that he has a large stock of Marble which his customers can have cut to order by calling on him. He buys his stock directly from the quarries or importers and cannot be undersold. Granite of the best quality from different quarries can be procured on short notice. Call and see his designs and specimens of his work.

Glen & Hall Manufacturing Co., of Rochester, manufacture superior Threshing Machines, Horse Powers and other agricultural implements. Their works have been established more than 40 years, during which time they have supplied machines to many thousand customers in all parts of the country. For further particulars of this worthy establishment, we refer the reader to their advertisement on page 206.

D. P. Bishop, M. D., Lockport, N. Y., advertises on page 126. It is with pleasure that we are permitted to call the attention of those afflicted with Cancer, to Dr. Bishop's mode of treatment.—Past success is the best recommendation that can be given in favor of his mode of treatment.

Improved Gerard.—Read the advertisement headed "The celebrated Oroide Watch." The advertisers (Messrs. James Gerard & Co.) are actually selling these Watches at twelve dollars, fifteen dollars, and twenty dollars each; and that they strictly resemble gold we know—that they wear like gold, a friend of ours, who has worn one six months, assures us; and that they are, therefore, (in the words of the advertisement) "as good as gold, in all respects, except intrinsic value," we have reason to believe. Every watch is GUARANTEED by special certificate.—Elizabeth (N. J.) Journal. See card on Map of County.
